Empress: No Strike

"The strike is definitely off."

That was the word at 6:30 p.m. Friday from an exhausted but jubilant Labor Minister Peterson, who had spent the day conferring with parties in the Empress Hotel labor dispute.

A strike was scheduled to begin midnight Friday.

"As of 6:25 agreement has been reached on terms of reference to be submitted to an arbitrator," Mr. Peterson said.

He said representatives of the Canadian Pacific hotel and Local 276 of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC), have agreed to accept the man he appoints as arbitrator, and have agreed the arbitrator's findings shall be binding on both parties.

"The main battle is over now," Mr. Peterson said. The next step, he said, is for

Khrushchev To Visit Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has accepted an invitation to visit Cuba, the "first socialist state in America," the Soviet government announced Friday. He also warned that Russia would reply to any attack on Cuba "with all the means at its disposal."

Bennett Dream At End Of Line

The Pacific Northern Railway Friday went the way of the international financier who promoted it — it died.

With its death went one of the Bennett government's fondest dreams — a 700-mile railway from Prince George to the Yukon.

The railway was the crown jewel of a northern B.C. industrial empire envisioned by the late Axel Wenner-Gren. First it was to be a revolutionary monorail, capable of 100-miles-an-hour speeds, but later it was to be a conventional railway.

Its death knell was sounded in a provincial cabinet order that rescinded the railway's special borrowing powers, proposed right-of-way and authority to use crown land for some.

The PNR died hard. When opposition forces in 1960 branded it a promoter's pipe dream and a government giveaway, grand opening of construction was staged in a clearing a few miles north of Prince George where Premier Bennett cut down a tree and vowed work would never cease until the Yukon was reached.

The tree was practically the last to fall.

In 1962 the project was dormant but Transport Minister Westwood said the government wouldn't cancel the railway's certificate in case the company decided to go ahead.

But the government did confiscate a $15,000 company good faith deposit.

B.C. Legal Official Angry

Kidnap Report 'Shocking'

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

B.C. deputy attorney-general Gilbert Kennedy was shocked and angered yesterday at word that Loomis robbery fugitive Douglas John Brown had been denied legal rights in Brazil.

GILBERT KENNEDY
... nothing to do with it

"I wouldn't be a party to it. Everyone is entitled to habeas corpus."

He said his department had been fully expecting to go through due process of law in attempting to bring Brown back to B.C. He personally had been working on the case since earlier in the day.

"Never at any time during the day did we imagine that he would be deprived of the due process of law. We have had nothing to do with any kidnapping and do not condone his being held in detention incommunicado."

LOOMIS MAN SENT NORTH

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP-AP)—Canadian robbery suspect Douglas John Brown was badly shoved up the steps into a Brazilian jetliner Friday night en route to the United States.

Fugitive Denied Rights

Two plainclothes detectives drove Brown to the airport in a tire-screaming taxi and immediately hustled him through a throng of Brazilian reporters and into the Varig airliner which was scheduled to arrive in New York at 7:30 a.m. today.

Brown is sought by Vancouver police in an investigation of the theft of $325,000 from the Loomis Armored Car Service in the British Columbia city.

SAID NOTHING

Reporters asked Brown such questions as "Going voluntarily?" "Got no money?" and "Where's the money?" But Brown, appearing bewildered, said nothing as he was hustled up the steps into the plane.

MOVED INTO PLANE

The police gave Brown a final shove, sending him into the plane, then turned around and made sure no reporters boarded the plane. Moments later the plane taxied off.

All the passengers in the jetliner were in their seats before Brown's arrival.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sun quotes Rio Police Chief Gustavo Borgus as saying in a telephone interview: "Brown surrendered quietly. He has not been charged with any crime here. He is being held in strict secrecy at police headquarters."

Borgus explained that Brown was held in secrecy in an attempt to circumvent the law of habeas corpus until he can be placed aboard a plane for New York.

Borgus was quoted as saying the "kidnapping technique" was used in the arrest of Brown.

"It is the usual method used by Brazilian police to get what we call undesirable out of the country."

Treaty Pledge

No 'Washout' Over Columbia

VANCOUVER (CP)—Forestry Minister J. R. Nicholson said Friday there is no justification for any belief Canada is going to ask the U.S. to wash out the present Columbia River development treaty.

The minister said at a press conference all the present treaty needs is "correction and particularly clarification."

"It is our intention to come to grips with this problem."

New Motel Destroyed By Flames

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—A $250,000 motor hotel was destroyed by fire Friday near Fort St. John. No one was injured.

Robert Wilmaner said the fire started early Friday afternoon and was believed to have been ignited by a short circuit in the wiring below the kitchen area.

About 500 persons gathered to watch firemen battle the blaze for three hours.

The hotel, three miles west of Fort St. John and about 400 miles northwest of Edmonton, was constructed about four months ago.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Lavinia Brown said Friday night Brazilian authorities must have ignored a writ of habeas corpus when they shipped her husband out of Rio de Janeiro to face robbery charges.

She said the writ was obtained by lawyers to prevent just such a deportation. His wife said a Vancouver law firm, which has been working with associates in Brazil, still may try to take action when the plane lands in New York.

Alabama Governor Faces Court On State Sovereignty Issue

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge has ordered delinquent Alabama Governor George Wallace into court next month for a legal showdown on the state sovereignty issue raised by the governor in his pledge to keep two Negroes out of a state university.

Asserting federal sovereignty, the U.S. justice department moved Friday for an injunction against Wallace's interfering with the enrolment of Negro students at the University of Alabama.

A governor "has no authority by 'interposition' or otherwise to obstruct or prevent the execution of the lawful orders of a court of the United States," the justice department said.

Under a court order, Vivian J. Malone, 20, of Mobile is to become the second Negro ever admitted to the main campus at Tusculum and David M. McGlathery, 27, will attempt to enrol at the university centre in Huntsville, his hometown.

'Lavender Hill Mob' Scores

LONDON (UPI)—Four bandits clad in blue overalls, their faces covered by women's silk stockings, stole half a ton of gold bullion bars worth $380,000 Friday in what police said was Britain's biggest gold theft.

The simplicity of the operation recalled a classic Alec Guinness film, The Lavender Hill Mob.

Three of the members of the gang pounced on warehouse guard Percy Houghton immediately after a bullion truck delivered 80 gold bars from Rothchild's Bank.

They clubbed him and tied him to a chair. They they loaded 40 of the bars, each weighing 28 pounds, into a delivery truck and sped away in the wrong direction on a one-way street.

parliament—not only in Canada, but in countries all over the world.

The politicians want to know what is happening. Are the increases justified, or is it another gigantic market manoeuvre in which the sharp boys make their killing and the housewives have to pay for it?

The known facts of the sugar boom are that Cuba failed to deliver its normal crop in 1962, and this was accentuated by a widespread failure of the European sugar beet crop.

As a result the available sugar supply this year amounts to about 51,000,000 tons, against a normal annual consumption of 56,000,000 tons.

So far no one is actually short of sugar, but the fear exists that shortages may develop, and as a result of that fear the major users of sugar—such as the soft drink industry and the candy makers—have taken fright and have been laying in stocks of sugar for future delivery.

It was this demand for futures which started the sugar scare. Smaller commercial users of sugar got into the act as well, to assure themselves of a sugar supply before prices went further ahead. Most housewives, too, have laid in

Unusual 'Suspects' In Lovers' Lane

OTTAWA (CP)—The other night, neighbors in east Ottawa's Needy Hill district decided to put an end to nocturnal activities of car parkers in Needy Hill Park.

They called police and were do you think they caught?

Alderman "Charles M. Gormaine and me," a blushing Mayor Charlotte Whitton told board of control Thursday.

She said they went to the park from another civic meeting to check the validity of complaints about the "lovers' lane."

"We weren't there five minutes and up pulled a police car with lights flashing," Miss Whitton related.

To the obviously embarrassed policemen, Alderman M. Gormaine blithely explained: "We're just getting evidence."

The policemen, according to Mayor Whitton, replied: "Oh, go right ahead."

What Shortage? Asks the World

Fear of Rising Prices Is Raising Prices—And Speculators Hit Sweet Bonanza

By MARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

The price of sugar has quadrupled this year, and most of the rise has taken place in the past few weeks. The world market price has risen from about $60 a ton to about $270 a ton.

A 10-pound bag of sugar selling a few months ago at about 50 cents is now costing about $1.50. It may go higher yet.

The increase is also putting up the price of practically every foodstuff that has a sugar content.

Nobody is happy about it. Questions are being asked in

Washington:

Bubble Will Burst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The agriculture department said Friday night "the speculative bubble in sugar" will burst under the weight of plentiful supplies. Sugar futures and sugar shares dropped on New York exchanges Friday.

High Level to Stay

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sugar prices may stay at their high level into 1964, Forrest Rogers, president of the B.C. Sugar Refining Company, said here Friday. He said prices will level off when some countries stop buying sugar because of the high price.

Suspect Hustled North

Sergio Simoes, chief aide to Rio Police Chief Gustavo Borjas, told The Associated Press FBI agents would pick up Brown upon arrival in New York and place him aboard another plane for Vancouver.

Brown was being accompanied to New York by Rio policeman Alvaro Conceicao.

Shortly before midnight a spokesman for the Canadian embassy said in a telephone interview that Brown was being flown home.

The spokesman said the embassy had "nothing to do with the affair." He then added "it seems that the police have handled it."

There was no immediate word as to whether police found any of the $325,000 reported missing. The money is part of $325,000 stolen during last week-end. Police recovered $200,000 in cash and cheques in a car parked near the Vancouver airport.

The Canadian embassy here confirmed that Brown had been arrested. Police admitted that an order had been issued for Brown's arrest but they refused any further comment.

Brazil and Canada have an treaty providing for extradition of persons sought for a crime in his homeland.

It was learned unofficially that Brown had been held quietly at the political social division of the Rio police while plans were made to let him leave the country "voluntarily." Detectives picked him up Friday morning at the beachfront Miramar Hotel where he had been since arriving in Rio Monday.

ARREST CONFIRMED

The Canadian embassy said it had no official word on the case except that the man had been arrested.

A desk clerk at the Miramar, one of the better hotels on Copacabana beach, reported that police took away a man who registered Monday as Douglas John Brown. The clerk said the hotel gave out information Thursday that Brown had left but this had been at Brown's request to ward off callers.

WAS UNDER WATCH

Police here have known of Brown's presence since his arrival. They kept him under surveillance but said they were not able to act until an official request was received from the Canadian embassy.

There was no indication here that the embassy had made such a request.

TO TORONTO

Police in Vancouver said a man who gave the name of J. D. Brown flew out of Vancouver airport early Sunday to Toronto, then to New York and then Rio. Airline officials said the man paid $1,400 for a round-trip ticket.

Vancouver police hold a theft warrant for Brown in connection with the theft from Loomis, discovered Tuesday morning after the Victoria Day holiday.

him to find and appoint an arbitrator. He did not expect the arbitrator's name to be announced before Monday.

When arbitration hearings would begin would be up to the arbitrator, he said, but there would have to be certain delay to give the two parties time to prepare their cases.

LAST DITCH

The announcement by Mr. Peterson followed a postponement in the strike deadline from Wednesday midnight to Friday midnight following a last-ditch meeting Wednesday of the parties in the dispute with deputy labor minister William Sands and Victoria conciliation officer W. T. McLaughlin.

It was agreed the parties would have the 48-hour period to agree on terms of reference to be submitted to the arbitrator.

Mr. Peterson stepped directly into the dispute Friday, interviewing hotel manager Leslie Parkinson and union general chairman J. R. Grealy of Ottawa, first separately and then together in the more-than-hour-long meeting which culminated in the 6:25 p.m. agreement.

"Both left smiling—eventually," said Mr. Peterson.

He said the parties asked that the terms of reference agreed upon be communicated directly to the arbitrator, and not made public.

Your Good Health

Gallstones Don't Register On All X-Ray Films Taken

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: If a person has had two X-rays of the gall bladder a week apart, and showed nothing, what is your opinion of its condition?—M.L.

Gall stones do not always register on an X-ray film. A certain dye (tetra-iodo-phenolphthalein) tends to concentrate in the mucous surfaces of the gall bladder and cast an X-ray shadow.

Surprisingly, a good outline could be obtained of a normal gall bladder, but not of one that was faulty or diseased. The dye, in the latter case, just did not concentrate there.

Thus when you write two

X-rays "showed nothing," I can only believe nothing abnormal was found and the gall bladder was healthy, or the bladder refused to accept the dye, indicating it is not healthy.

What to do? Consider such other symptoms as can be found.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes sties?—Mrs. E.W.

They are infections from the staphylococcus germ in the tiny glands of the eyelids. They tend to occur in crops. With this type of infection you must be particularly careful not to let the matter from one stye spread on the skin and perhaps start another.

Dear Dr. Molner: Our daughter is eight months pregnant. Her doctor insisted on having an X-ray before he would deliver the baby. What danger is there from having one X-ray?—M.D.

Yes, there is danger to the baby (not the mother) from X-ray exposure early in pregnancy, the first three to four months. The risk is virtually nil in the last month or two since by then the baby is quite well-developed.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can gonorrhea be cured? Is it more serious for a man?—S.L.

Yes, it can be cured. It is a dangerous disease in either sex.

NATO Tightens Nuclear Armor

OTTAWA (CP)—The North Atlantic alliance buckled on its nuclear armor more tightly Friday.

It agreed to combine existing air and sea units into a NATO nuclear force which, for the first time, will give the alliance intercontinental nuclear striking power.

The combined units, the communiqué of the NATO foreign and defense ministers said, will include British Bomber Command, three American Polaris missile submarines and units of other countries still to be assigned.

Though the communiqué did not say so, the other units will include the 200-bomber Canadian Air Division in Europe, similar West German Air Force squadrons and two French squadrons based in Germany.

The conference communiqué, as predicted, didn't name the nuclear force and referred to it only as a measure to increase effectiveness and improve control of nuclear power already at NATO's disposal. This was in deference to the wishes of France.

The conference discussed only briefly the feasibility of a NATO submarine nuclear strike force of 25 surface ships carrying Polaris missiles.

For the moment at least, it appears Canada is prepared to go no further than it did at the NATO meeting in pledging the RCAF air division of 200 low-level jet bombers in Europe to the NATO nuclear force of existing air and sea units.

RCAF Air Division Canada's Only Gift

By DAVE MCINTOSH
Canadian Press

The Canadian government gives every indication that it would rather never have heard of the proposed NATO seaborne strategic nuclear force.

The reason is obvious: Prime Minister Pearson has often said Canada could not get mixed up in the strategic weapons business.

The seaborne force, merely touched on at the NATO ministerial meeting which ended in Ottawa Friday, would have 25 surface ships equipped with the long-range Polaris missile.

For the moment at least, it appears Canada is prepared to go no further than it did at the NATO meeting in pledging the RCAF air division of 200 low-level jet bombers in Europe to the NATO nuclear force of existing air and sea units.

Some producing countries—many of which, like Britain, have government selling agencies—are being accused of holding up deliveries of sugar to obtain higher prices. These producing countries are being warned that when things get back to normal their quotas will be cut, and it is believed that this warning may dissuade them from their unethical schemes.

Meantime, it seems reasonable to believe that there will be a special effort this year among producers to increase both the cane and beet crops, and if the weather co-operates, the shortage will suddenly vanish and sugar prices will come toppling down.

Then those who still have futures on their hands will be left with sugar but little cash in their bags.

Limit rises have been common over the past three or four weeks, but in the last two days they have fallen by the amount of the limit, and some sugar operators feel that the peak of the market may have been reached.

Other sugar experts disagree. The head of Amalgamated Sugar Co. of Ogden, Utah, for instance, thinks the prices will either hold or strengthen until September, when the new beet crop will start coming in.

In some sugar marketing areas there is no sugar shortage at all. In Britain, where there is a government-controlled sugar board doing the buying and selling for the nation, there is a guaranteed minimum price of £46 a ton to Commonwealth producers. For years Britain has been subsidizing these producers when the world sugar price fell to £20 a ton. Now the British sugar board is selling sugar at £92 a ton, but because of an oversight in its constitution it cannot pass on the benefit to Britain's sugar users. So, the British consumer is having to pay through the nose like the rest of the world.

Everybody is trying to blame someone else for the sugar price scandal, but the age-old yardstick of supply and demand is at the core of the business, according to the experts.

Churchill Welshed On 20-Cent Debt

PRETORIA — Sir Winston Churchill welshed on an IOU 64 years ago and still hasn't paid a 20-cent debt, says barber C. H. Welgemoed.

The day before Churchill escaped from a Boer prison Dec. 12, 1899, he had a shave and haircut from Welgemoed's predecessor, and promised to pay "tomorrow."

Welgemoed, who recently bought the barbershop from Pearl Adams' estate, said: "We would never dream of suing Sir Winston but I'd gladly send him a receipt if he pays."

NEW YORK — U.S. navy yeoman Nelson Drummond, 34, will be retired June 3 on charges of stealing secret documents from his post in a Newport, R.I., naval station and selling them to Russia. His first trial ended in a deadlocked jury; the lone holdout and only Negro juror, Edward Watkins, 35, said race had nothing to do with it.

PARIS — The cigar-smoking Duchess of Bedford lost her court fight to get more money from first husband, Earl Milnes, to support their four children. The court also ordered her to stop using the Milnes name for her company, which produces films.

CAMP BORDEN, Ont. — Army Sgt. Leonard Demille, 32, was charged with capital murder in the shooting of Sgt. Herbert Wilson, 30. Police said Mrs. Demille escaped injury when shot at in a barbershop an hour before the fatal shooting.

MOSCOW — Frol Kozlov, 35, Nikita Khrushchev's heir apparent, was reported reliably to have regained consciousness and recovered from partial paralysis after a brain hemorrhage.

LONDON — Vladimir Ashkenazy, 25, Soviet pianist who recently decided to stay in Britain "indefinitely," has not returned as scheduled from a visit to Moscow.

VANCOUVER — Annabelle Rees-Davies, 33, was named in a court case as Mrs. Mabel Pederson was a divorcee from her husband Peter, 49, has petitioned for divorce in a long, complex case and named Pederson as co-defendant.

On Portugal, South Africa Algeria Wants War

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (CP) — Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria issued a virtual declaration of war against Portugal and South Africa Friday at the African summit conference. He called for immediate military action.

The fiery 46-year-old revolutionary won the greatest ovation yet in the 31-nation conference and immediate support from the moderate president of Tanganyika, Julius Nyerere.

Ben Bella announced that Algeria, which cast off French rule last year, has 10,000 volunteers ready to battle the Portuguese in Angola. He demanded that the conference "extend immediate aid to liberation fighters" there, in Portuguese Mozambique and in South Africa.

He urged adoption of a charter for African unity, but added: "Our charter will be a weapon against us unless we establish a bond of blood with those who are fighting in South Africa, Angola and Mozambique."

Nyerere drew thunderous applause with his response: "I want to assure our gallant brother from Algeria, brother Ben Bella, that we are prepared to die a little for the final removal of the humiliation of colonialism from the face of Africa."

"In our approach to the final liberation of Africa we are all agreed, without a single exception, that the time for words is gone. That is the time for action."

PROTECTION, Kan. — Mrs. Glenn Maria said a jug of water helped start and stop a fire in her car. She left the jug on the car seat while shopping, the sun focused through the glass and burned a hole in the seat. Water from the jug put it out.

BUENOS AIRES — Scientists Rodolfo Nibolizian, 33, of Argentina and O. M. Milamuk, 35, of the U.S. have developed a new helium isotope, helium 2, and confirmed the existence of another subnuclear particle, the diproton.

TORONTO — The good-looking young man told bank teller Mrs. Flora Michele: "You're a nice little girl. I don't want to harm you. Hand me the money and keep smiling." She kept smiling but refused the demand. The man fled.

LOS ANGELES — Robert Ellis, 25, an aerospace technician, sued for $200,000, alleging his wife died after taking birth control pills. Defendant is the G. D. Seale Co., manufacturers of enovid.

CRANBROOK — Moses Jimmy, 47, was sentenced to life imprisonment following a jury conviction on a reduced charge of non-capital murder. He had been charged with capital murder in the December shooting death of Margaret Mahersash, 27.

KITCHENER, Ont. — Magistrate H. J. Kirkpatrick warned that persons convicted of robbery with violence who appear before him are likely to receive the strap as part of their punishment. He spoke after Arthur Paradis, 18, got four months and four strokes of the strap for a $50 knife-point robbery.

Pope's Rally Slow

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John is not rallying from a relapse of his chronic illness "as fast as would be desired," although he is showing a marked improvement, Vatican sources said Friday.

The 81-year-old pontiff began a nine-day spiritual retreat Friday, but was too ill to move to the Tower of St. John, which is also in the 108-acre Vatican state.

Vigilantes Wait For Arsonist

MONTREAL (CP) — A posse of vigilantes that would put the wild west to shame is on 24-hour alert in east-end Montreal, hoping to lay hands on a firebug before police do.

The pyromaniac is blamed for 25 fires in the same 120-block area since May 6. Almost 100 families have been left homeless, and those who still have homes are out to see that they keep them.

Few pedestrians linger on the dimly-lit streets after dark, but volunteer sentries sit in window casements in every block and patrol the narrow, cobble brick alleys with dogs and baseball bats.

Millions Lost to Frost On Ontario Farms

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario fruit and tobacco farmers counted crop losses of at least $2,500,000 Friday and feared the damage from severe early morning frosts may go far higher.

Estimates of the loss in Niagara Peninsula grape and strawberry growers were more than $2,000,000.

Temperatures dropped to 22 degrees in the Niagara Peninsula fruit belt.

Once More the Idea

THE TOURIST trade group of the Chamber of Commerce will make a factual study of a convention centre project, able to accommodate some 1,500 to 2,000 persons, and report on the possibility of such being realized.

Because it can't handle large-scale delegations with present existing facilities Victoria loses out when it comes to providing the locale for conventions, now a profitable business in places where the conveniences are ample. Could it stage major gatherings of this nature there is no doubt this city would have a preferential advantage because of its other favorable factors.

This is simply a revival of the civic auditorium idea, which was always intended, should it ever come to pass, to provide convention facilities as well as be a centre of other activity. The city lacks badly a large hall with ancillary rooms to stage all manner of events and functions where space to enclose large audiences are concerned.

It is a subject also that has been talked about for so long one has almost despaired of anything positive being done about it.

There is in fact a civic committee of several years standing which was entrusted with the job of proposing something concrete in this direction, but it has been conspicuously barren of suggestions. The Chamber of Commerce, however, is a much more dynamic organization and there is hope therefore that the factual study now to be undertaken will really bear fruit.

An auditorium, convention centre—call it what you will—could be a first-class project for this area's participation in the national centenary of 1967, perhaps the best undertaking of all that might be visualized. This is an angle on which the tourist trade group might set its sights, which in any case will invite a long-term view.

Coliseum buildings are not produced overnight, but there might be provincial assistance forthcoming—Premier Bennett spoke favorably in this respect during previous auditorium discussions—and an all-out drive if pushed with the vigor associated with other local ventures of late years conceivably could be crowned with success.

Problems Unsolved

ONE OF THE major promises made by President Kennedy in his election campaign of 1960 was that he would get the United States moving again by doubling the growth rate of the gross national product, and cutting the rate of unemployment drastically.

Whatever his successes may have been—and they have probably been greatest in the "cold war" field—Mr. Kennedy has certainly not managed to increase the GNP—still under three per cent—while the unemployment rate is running about six per cent, compared with the four per cent which Mr. Kennedy believed should be a reasonable maximum.

The source of Mr. Kennedy's domestic economy trouble has largely been that no method has yet been found to raise consumer demand to the capacity of existing industry. The basic needs of the majority of Americans are tolerably satisfied. Even the selling lines of a second family car, a summer cottage, two TV sets, refrigerator plus deep-freeze and other home appliance gimmicks, have reached near enough to the saturation limit to make them only of minor importance as growth features.

Indeed if it were not for vast expenditure on defence and the whopping cost of trying to get the first man on the moon, the U.S. growth situation could be more depressing. It has come to the stage that defence and space contracts are absolutely necessary to keep the country out of a depression, and are accepted as a fact of life.

Not only is Mr. Kennedy pouring public funds into these "pots," but he is also making tax concessions totalling about $10,000,000,000 over the next three years as a spur for new industrial enterprise.

The end result is a threatened budget deficit this year of $19,000,000,000 without much relief in sight.

Doubtful confounding Mr. Kennedy's problem is the growth of automation which plays havoc with the employment situation by making it possible for industry to produce more with fewer hands.

It is thus not hard to understand why Mr. Kennedy is looking for new markets for U.S. goods outside of his own country. The GATT conference has shown that the U.S. is anxious to lower tariff walls wherever it can get them lowered, and is certainly one reason why Mr. Kennedy was so anxious to get Britain out of the Commonwealth preference trading ring.

But the U.S. has yet to sample how its industry will be able to hold its own in the domestic market in the face of unfettered competition from low-cost producers in Europe, Asia and elsewhere.

On that, time alone will tell.

The Trauma of Noise

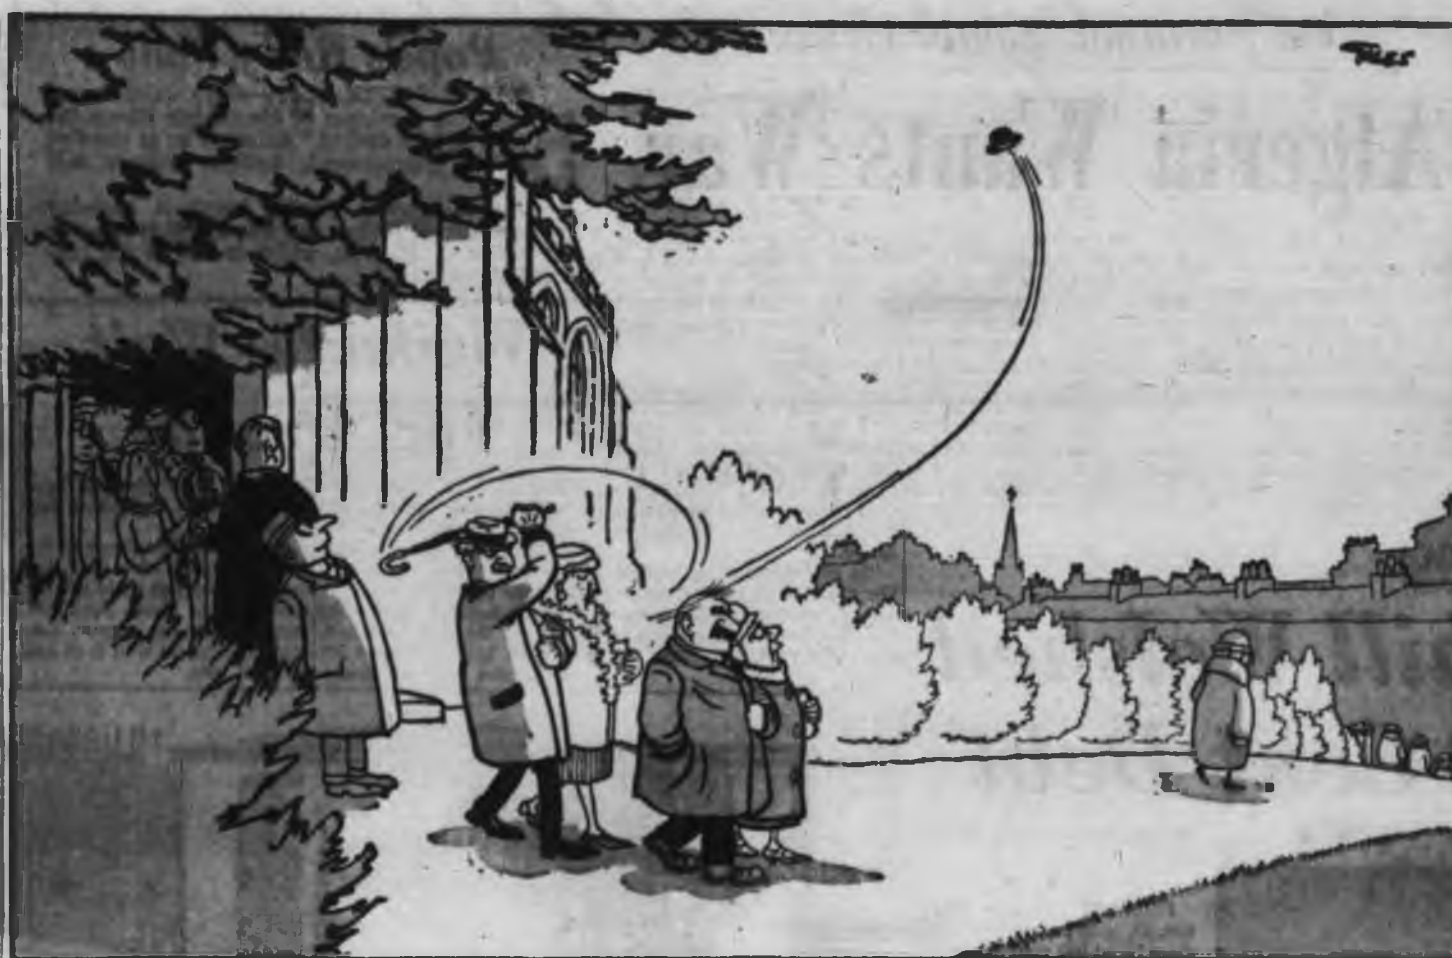

MEDICAL experts have been examining an isolated native tribe in the Sudan and reportedly are baffled by their acute sense of hearing. They can talk in voices ten times lower than the strength of ordinary Western conversation, and hear sounds far beyond our accustomed norm.

In their findings the medical mission conclude this acuteness of hearing is because the tribesmen are "undamaged by the trauma of noise."

One can readily accept this verdict, for the trauma of noise is something we moderns know all about. The din of sound—from loudspeakers, television sets, juke boxes, incessant radio, street vehicles—is often overwhelming and one must learn figuratively to close one's ears to survive.

The interesting observation is further made that like this Sudanese tribe we also have unimpaired hearing to start with but it becomes weakened because of the noise constantly around us. If it gets worse then, as it threatens to do, the day will come when we shall all wear hearing aids.

Yet doubtless none of us would change places with these tribesmen, living in their soundless paradise with perfect eyesight, acute hearing sense and, as a corollary, untroubled by heart or nervous diseases. We like too well the things that go with our noises.

"Even if he is the Labor candidate who took your seat on the council you've no right to knock his hat off in front of the vicar."

Washington Calling

Who's in Charge?

By MARQUEN CHILDS

AS THE pressure of the Communists in Laos increases a familiar shadow once again darkens the Eastern horizon. Because United States policy ignores Red China does not mean that it will conveniently fold up, nor does it mean that the increasing threat of Chinese imperialism will not be felt throughout all of Asia.

If there are two Chinas—Formosa and China K'ai-sheng and the Communist mainland—there are also two China policies within the government here. Powerful forces in the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency have not abandoned the view that American interests in the Far East can never be safeguarded short of a direct confrontation with Red China.

The official policy is to build up Chiang on Formosa—some $3 billion in American military and economic aid have gone into the island which is about one-third the size of Cuba with nearly twice the population—as a theoretical alternative to the Red dictatorship. Chiang continues to promise a return to the mainland but he has signed an agreement that he will not undertake an invasion without the consent of the United States.

Official policy set by the President is opposed to any invasion attempt in the conviction that such an attempt would, under present circumstances, be suicidal. What points this up are recurring rumors that Chiang, now 75 years old, means never to leave Formosa. He has had strong support in the part from the Pentagon-CIA faction that believes in a direct conflict with China. And despite the fact that a high civilian official of the Pentagon went to Formosa specifically to tell the Gimo, short for Generalissimo, that his invasion plans could not be supported without massive U.S. rearmament, a troubling doubt remains.

The question, in short, is: Who's in charge here? The degree to which CIA has in recent years shaped policy in Asia by the acts of CIA operatives with almost-unlimited, unaccounted funds and independent on-the-scene authority is an open secret at top government levels. From time to time in four—some would say six—Asian capitals the CIA chief has exerted the real authority against the American ambassador duly accredited to the country.

The degree of direction from the CIA on Formosa cannot be measured. For nearly three years, beginning in 1955, the American Ambassador, Everett F. Drumright, made himself an advocate for Chiang. The Kennedy administration replaced him with Alan Kirk, a tough-minded admiral who was ambassador to Moscow from 1949 to '52. Going out with instructions to keep Chiang leashed, Kirk became ill after six months and came home in January and resigned. Since then the Embassy has been headed by a chargé d'affaires. The vacant post was tentatively offered to Admiral George W. Anderson, retiring Chief of Naval Operations. To some this seemed a curious choice in view of the lack of political understanding Anderson had demonstrated, together with his more or less open opposition to certain Kennedy policies. He has agreed to go as Ambassador to Portugal.

Another admiral, Jerauld Wright, has taken the Formosa post. In his last active assignment, as commander of NATO naval forces and the Atlantic fleet, Wright showed great charm and diplomatic talent. On his retirement he went to the CIA as one of the 12 members of the Board of National Estimates, which does the final appraisal before final recommendations are passed upon.

Little imagination is required to see the consequences of an attempt by Chiang to land troops on the mainland. There is a measure of what is at stake in the old recurring dilemma of China.

With disaster looming, Chiang would send up a cry for American help. And it is here that a recurring nightmare haunts sober officials. To refuse such help would be to invite the charge from the China lobby and the Republican opposition that the Democrats are the only party that lost China twice.

But to go to Chiang's rescue would touch off a chain reaction so far-reaching no one would venture to predict its end. At the very least it would lead to the breach between Russia and China and put a period to all hope of a permanent split in the Communist bloc. At the worst it would mean nuclear war. That is a measure of what is at stake in the old recurring dilemma of China.

Today In History

Canadians went into action in Korea for the first time as a brigade 12 years ago today—in 1946. The 25th Infantry Brigade, under Brigadier John M. Rockingham, was boosted to full strength by the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. Previously the Patricia's fought as part of the 28th Commonwealth Brigade.

1879—Canadian-born publisher Lord Beaverbrook was born.

1948—Communist Chinese troops entered Shanghai.

Views Diverge on

European Strategy

By ANDREW WILSON from London

WASHINGTON denials have been followed by the Americans for the past two years, the British forces will relearn the tactics of fighting with conventional support from armor, artillery and high explosive bombs. They will also continue to take account of nuclear weapons—but only as part of the wide variety of weapons which might be brought into play.

The change is partly due to studies and war-games, which have shown that the use of tactical nuclear weapons (now numbering 50,000 in Western Europe alone) is likely to cause loss of control by commanders on a battlefield devastated by blast and radiation.

Another consideration has been civilian casualties, highlighted by a recent war-game in which three NATO Corps "used" nuclear weapons against military targets only in an area of 10,000 square miles containing no large towns or cities. In this "battle" involving between 500 and 1,000 nuclear "strikes," it was reckoned that at least 1,500,000 civilians were killed or fatally injured by radiation.

A third reason for terminating reliance on nuclear weapons is the "new look" of American grand strategy, which has discarded "massive retaliation" in favor of "flexible response." This means the ability to counter a Soviet attack in a variety of ways, including conventional war and the threat of selective nuclear bombardment. But because of escalation, tactical nuclear weapons would be liable to produce a global nuclear exchange automatically.

Now the days are ended when NATO planners, encouraged by the cheapness of small one-man nuclear weapons like the Davy Crockett mortar, adopted the slogan of "a Davy Crockett in every pocket."

BAOR and the other six divisions of NATO ground forces must be organized to match troops with troops—perhaps with a shortening of the present British front and the transfer of part of it to German formations.

The British believe that in any attack the weaker side would quickly resort to tactical nuclear weapons and that these would "escalate" to the use of strategic ones. Hence the difference of emphasis—the British on "deterrence," the American on "defence."

Looked at more closely, the British policy is that to advertise extension of the period of possible conventional war is to undermine the predictability of the Western deterrent and encourage a Soviet adventure. This, by implication, might not rule out willingness to go some way to meet American wishes in secret.

But the stumbling block is the military state of several European members of NATO. The British are woefully ill-equipped to fight a protracted conventional battle. At least, until recently, the outstanding example was West Germany, whose shortcomings were highlighted by last year's NATO exercise Fallex-62. The United States has since gone out of its way to deny that the West German Army is equipped to fight for only three days.

The British, by contrast, have genuinely planned for the 30-day non-nuclear contingency. They have a well-developed infrastructure, supply and communication organization, and every gun in the British Army of the Rhine (BAOR) has enough ammunition to fire for 30 days on a generous scale.

The major reproach to BAOR has hitherto been its outdated tactical doctrines, based on over-reliance on nuclear weapons to help in holding an extended front. But this is now being remedied concurrently with the redeployment of units and formations to positions nearer the East German border, as part of the "forward strategy" of the Supreme Commander Europe, General Lemnitzer.

Tea-Leaves and

Singing Birds

By CASSANDRA
From London

THE Conservatives have been trounced at the local elections. They have been weighed in the balance (just watch me stir this mixed metaphor) and their heads have rolled in the sand.

If these little elections are any guide to a general election, Mr. Macmillan and his bedraggled troops have had it. Gipsy Cassandra has consulted the tea leaves. I do not see the Tories fighting this autumn. Their present political fortunes could not be lower. They have been cast aside. They are rejected by men.

Why should this strange-mannered old man, with admittedly enormous powers of recuperation, fight on a field of present topical defeat?

He has nothing to lose of this present nadir of his policies and all to gain when the blunders of the past have merged into the twilight of faded memory and mild forgiveness.

Mr. Macmillan has yet to play the Budget Card.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Reginald Maudling, produced last month an impeccable budget. No bribes. No enticements. No snares.

But can he resist the tempting chance of affecting the electorate with a flashy next budget next April, when, as everybody knows in politics, votes can be influenced by who gets what and how much?

What is for sure is that the next general election will be one of the dirtiest pieces of political in-fighting for a long time.

When Sir Winston Churchill in his mellow retirement was suddenly produced as an argument on the question of nuclear disarmament in his message to the Primrose League, one knew that the gloves were off.

So, as the tea leaves foretell, gipsy Cassandra says the election is on in the spring. "In the springtime."

The only pretty ring time. When birds do sing.

Hey ding-a-ding, ding. Sweet lovers love the spring."

WHEN I recounted the news that there was a risk of some of the Highland regiments being supplied with bagpipes made in Sialkot City in Pakistan, I feared the wrath of the killed Pipe Majors. But not in the case of Mr. G. A. Macrae, who is himself a noted Pipe Major.

There are many manufacturers in Sialkot City whose craftsmanship and pricing cannot be equaled by home manufacturers. Ivory and silver ornamentation are much cheaper than they are at home, so it is quite in order for the Army Quartermaster's Department to buy in the cheapest market.

"My opinion was sought in India in 1929 on the qualities of Indian workmanship and I can assure you that providing African Blackwood is used instead of cheap Indian Sheesham, Indian pipes can be said to be a better buy."

No doubt Pipe Major Macrae is right but the thought of the small chanters made in Pakistan breaks one of our oldest dreams.

Next it'll be portridge made from oats grown in Bulgaria; sporrans fabricated in Kiev; Scotch whisky distilled in Tokyo; cabers off the production line in Detroit and plastic reproductions of the thistle and the heather extruded from chemical factories in Milan.

We will now listen to a Venezuelan choir singing "The Road to the Isles."

The New Cabinet

Hon. Rene Tremblay

By GORDON DEWAR

One of a series of sketches introducing members of the new government.

RENE Tremblay, minister without portfolio, is one minister in the new government ahead of him which he cannot yet tackle officially.

He has been selected as the man who will become the second agriculture minister in the Pearson cabinet, but he will not assume this office until Parliament has passed the necessary legislation.

He expects to see this action taken quickly in the Commons, but cannot be sure and for the interval "must wait and see."

Mr. Tremblay was selected as a cabinet minister after winning his only contest for public office.

At the age of 40, he said he has been active in politics for only six years—since Quebec Premier Lesage became leader of the provincial Liberal party.

Basically, he is an educator, with an extensive education.

He received his classical education at the College de Rimouski; studied social sciences at Laval University for three years; spent another year at McGill; and added to his studies at the University of Louvain, Belgium and Cambridge University.

In 1950 he became professor of economics at Laval, a post he retained until 1960, when he was named deputy minister of industry and commerce in Quebec's new Lesage administration.

His political activities before then led him to the office of secretary of the Quebec Liberal Federation in 1959-60 and he was also chairman of the party's political commission.

Mr. Tremblay resigned his provincial office this year to contest the riding of Matapedia-Matane, which he won with a 3,000-vote majority in what was expected to be a strong Social Credit territory.

When legislation has been passed to allow him to assume the post of agriculture minister, he will split the department's administrative duties with Agriculture Minister Hays—each will assume control of specific branches of the administration across the board.

Each will also, however, be responsible for specific local problems on an East-West basis.

Thus, Mr. Tremblay expects to deal with the Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act (ARDA) in Northern Ontario and Quebec, the lower St. Lawrence region and New Brunswick.

He will also concern himself with problems of subsidies, storage and price fluctuations in delivery of feed grain from the West to boost cattle production in Eastern Canada.

Noted Playwright Visits Here With Drunkard

By BERT DINNY

Probably one of today's most prolific playwrights is Raymond Hull of Vancouver, equally at home with drama, comedy or satire; equally facile with the legitimate stage or TV.

Mr. Hull was in town yesterday holding, as it were, a watch-brief over the debut of that ancient melodrama, The Drunkard, which opened at The Secret last night. The adaptation for Coffee House production was done by Mr. Hull who summarily reduced the original cast of 25 lead parts, villagers, musicians and assorted hangers-on to just five leading players.

BY THACKERAY

It is Mr. Hull's contention that the original script of The Drunkard was written by none other than William Makepeace Thackeray who, however, was unfamiliar with stage requirements so that his effort was adapted by a certain W. H. Smith to whom the play is now ascribed.

Raymond Hull has had numerous plays produced by the CBC, among them The Bunker, presented about three months ago, and The Quality of Mercy, screened just three weeks back.

ADAPTATIONS

The CBC program, Hidden Pages, featured a number of plays by Mr. Hull, including Rhyme and Reason, Asses' Ears, The Gold Bug, adapted from Edgar Allan Poe's famous story, and Roast Pig, adapted from Charles Lamb's famous Chinese anecdote.

"Writing plays," says Mr. Hull, "is the most stimulating and emotionally rewarding form of authorship." He teaches creative writing at the YMCA night school in Vancouver.

LEGITIMATE STAGE

Plays for the legitimate stage which Mr. Hull has had produced recently are such as The Washing Machine, The Reason

Service for IODE

In Cathedral Sunday

A special service honoring the IODE will be held during evening in Christ Church Cathedral Sunday. The order is holding its dominion annual meeting in Victoria this week.

Why, Beastly Cinderella—a political satire in pantomime form—and A Little Organization. Both the last-named play and The Bunker are concerned with post-nuclear war situations.

VICTORIA VENUE

"I am going to write a play called The Drunkard Reformed or The Remittance Man," says he, "and the scene will be Victoria during the gold rush days of the 1860s."

Also projected is a three-act melodrama entitled Wedded to a Villain or Locked in a Living Tomb. Mr. Hull is strong on melodrama.

Trekkers All But Absorbed By City They Claim to Hate

By DUNCAN HOLMES

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who left their Kootenay homes nine months ago in search of answers to numerous problems have all but been swallowed up by this city they claim to hate.

But their wanderings may not be at an end. Meanwhile, about 100 of them still congregate daily in the sunshine of Victory Square off downtown Hastings Street.

SINGING QUIETLY

While babies in gingham patter at the base of the city's war memorial, their mothers, heads covered in the babushkas of Doukhoborism, quietly sing hymns.

After dark the Freedmites head for a variety of homes across the city.

RENTED HOMES

Others of the group she unofficially leads are in rooming houses, with friends in private homes, or have rented homes of their own.

Vancouver residents disregard the Sons who moved here last winter and set up headquarters in the grass-covered square.

The Sons, numbering between 500 and 1,000, say they will never be absorbed in an environment they claim to detest.

Beaming with success after having finished two-week course as waitresses and room maids are, front from left, Gail Barker, Dianna Barron, instructor Mrs. Mary Kilpatrick, Wilma Storm, Judith Croteau and Gay Connelly; back row from left, Leona Keyes, Linda Keen, Cheryl Custante, Jacqueline Camp, Sharon Grice, Margaret Hooper, Patricia Thompson Marilyn Olson, Marie Olson and Joanne Close.

Fifteen Graduate

Girls End Course For Waitresses

First instructional class for the basic ingredients of the trade without a hitch, he added.

These courses, run in co-operation with the National Employment Service here, were first designed last year when it became apparent there would be a shortage of skilled waitresses and room maids due to increased tourist traffic.

Shortage this year prompted the service to again request the courses.

Under instructor Mrs. Mary Kilpatrick, 15 girls — some of them university students — proved adaptable and learned

Some Doukhobors observe, believe, however, they aren't staying.

Watching the Sons here are four members of the RCMP's D (for Doukhobors) squad. Their headquarters is a city motel.

What do the Freedmites want here and what do they do? The Freedmites say Canada had never given the Sons "an honest right to carry out that confession of faith which has no relation to criminalism and destruction in any of its harmful reflections."

Some appear to have money from their savings but others are on unemployment insurance and nearing the end of that. And for the rest, there is provincial welfare which appears to be adequate for their frugal living.

Nearly all children are in school.

Girl's Stunted Leg Now Matches Other

CHICAGO (AP)—A medical team stimulated the stunted left leg of a girl polio victim to grow an extra inch in 4½ years and catch up with her right leg.

The extra growth was accomplished by surgically creating a half-inch communication between the femoral artery and femoral vein in her affected leg.

Garden Notes

Geraniums Are Back

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

In the closing years of the last century, a round or oval bed of geraniums in the front lawn was as much a symbol of Victorian respectability as the aspidistra in the lace-curtained front window. Then came the cult of the "natural" garden, spearheaded by such great gardeners as William Robinson and Gertrude Jekyll, and flower beds took on a shaggier and more informal appearance. The geranium was given the old heave-ho from our gardens and was relegated to a jam tin in a cottage window.

Today, with the African violet taking over the role of popular house-plant and the cut-leaf philodendron replacing the old aspidistra, the geranium has once again come into its own as an outdoor bedding plant, and for my money is one of the most satisfying of the lot.

It furnishes a bed or planter perfectly, glowing with vivid color. Edged with dark blue lobelia, and with perhaps a dracena in the centre to add interest and accent with its palm-like foliage, the bed takes on an exotic, tropical air. And if you handle your plants intelligently, you can have an unbroken succession of brilliant color from June right through to the end of the season.

The limiting factor with geraniums is the cost, for they will probably set you back 75c to $1 a plant for individually potted specimens, well furnished with buds and all set to burst into bloom. You can get quite a lot of mileage out of them, for geranium cuttings will root almost as readily as mint, and by making more plants from slips, you can keep going indefinitely on your original investment.

I never use manure in the preparation of the beds for geraniums, for heavy feeding makes the growth almost as sappy as a rhubarb leaf and you wind up with giant plants, all leaf and no flowers. Besides, mellow old rotted manure is too expensive and difficult to come by to waste on plants that don't appreciate it.

If the soil is very sandy or gravelly or if it is heavy clay loam, I dig in peat moss, which hasn't much in the way of food value but which modifies the texture of the soil, making it less sticky and more readily worked and giving sandy ground a greater ability to retain moisture.

For fertilizer, bone meal is the stuff for these plants—bone meal and wood ashes. I use two cups of bone meal and four of ashes to the square yard in preparing the bed, scattering it evenly and just scratching it into the surface with the rake.

I break the soil down moderately but not too much. The geranium is a natural-born forager and it isn't a good idea to make things too easy for it; better let the roots scramble around a bit for their nutrients rather than handing them their supper on a platter. Following the digging, I tread the bed much more firmly than for any other flowers—just as firmly as for Brussels sprouts. Really firm soil produces a stocky, short-jointed plant with well-ripened stems and a good head of bloom from every joint.

The plants are set in the ground on the slant, with the main stem sloping toward the back of the bed at an angle of about 30 degrees. After planting, the tip of each plant is nipped off.

This shearing causes side shoots to sprout from every leaf joint, each one growing vertically from the sloping main stem, and each one of these side shoots will bear a good head of flowers. In this way, you get many more blooms per square yard and a much more lavish display than if the plants had been set in upright.

Le Mistral Wows JOHN CROSBY

Train In Search of Author

CANNES, France—Le Mistral is long and sleek and covered with a serrated aluminum skin that shines brightly in the thin spring sunshine. It's air-conditioned from end to end, silent as a wraith, terribly fast, terribly ultra and marvelously comfortable. It's the pride of the French post-war trains.

It's got everything, in fact, except the one thing a train needs most, which is glamour. Agatha Christie immortalized the Blue Train, which flashes over the same route (Paris to Nice). Alfred Hitchcock had his lady vanish from the Nord-Express. Graham Greene and a million other guys have waxed rich off the Orient Express, the most magic name in transportation since the flying carpet.

Le Mistral is a train in search of an author. It needs Cary Grant hiding from Brigitte Bardot, as it rockets at an average of 80 miles an hour towards the Côte d'Azur.

At 2:45 p.m., famished, I sit down in the dining car and look out the window at a chateau on a distant ridge with a cluster of little houses at its knees like imploring children, while the man brings hors d'oeuvres, fish in a cream sauce, contre-filet, cheese, ice cream and coffee, and brandy. Takes just under two hours, that meal.

After lunch I take a nap and when I wake up we're in Provence and it's blossoms, the yellow scythis, the purple lilacs. No matter how many times I see the French countryside, I never fail to wonder at its freshness, its virginity untouched by all those centuries and all those conquests.

The great thing about train travel is that you can see the countryside in reasonably human terms. Even at 80 miles an hour, you catch wondrous glimpses of green earth and blue sky and humanity.

You catch a glimpse that is truly fleeting and therefore even more memorable of a French peasant standing motionless in his furrow, contemplating infinity.

The French farmer is the most contemplative of the world's farmers. That's why French agriculture is so expensive and also why the stuff tastes so good. I get cold shivers every time I hear talk of making French agriculture efficient. The farmers will get rich and the radishes will lose all their taste.

At 2:45 p.m., famished, I sit down in the dining car and look out the window at a chateau on a distant ridge with a cluster of little houses at its knees like imploring children, while the man brings hors d'oeuvres, fish in a cream sauce, contre-filet, cheese, ice cream and coffee, and brandy. Takes just under two hours, that meal.

After lunch I take a nap and when I wake up we're in Provence and it's the long, slow, blue, French twilight. We're flashing through a Provencal town and I watch a couple of boys bicycling down a tree-shaded street against clay-colored houses, a scene out of Renoir or Cezanne.

The French Maritime Alps hang on the horizon in a blue haze of cloud and fading sunshine. The light is right out of French painting—soft, diffuse, turning all the colors pastel. The soil is sand-colored and looks as if it wouldn't support a cabbage, but it produces marvelous grapes. Little clay-colored farmhouses cling to the hills, their tiny terraces covered with vines laid out like geometry, an esthetic experience.

Presently, bare, raw-boned outcroppings of rock appear in the earth, heralding the approach of the sea. The light is quite blue but through it you can catch a glimpse of distant cliffs and then the Mediterranean.

Soon the train is sliding through Marcellas, great ships riding at anchor in the harbor, the houses marching up the steep hills of the port in the gathering darkness.

A couple of hours later, I'm in Cannes. Nice ride, nice train.

All it needs is a plot. I reflect sadly, as I get off, that all the years I have ridden European trains, not once has Madeleine Carroll taken refuge in my drawing-room and asked me to hide her from the Gestapo. But I keep hoping.

Roddy's Talents Costly

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Roddy McDowall only works in the most expensive films. His last three—Cleopatra, The Longest Day and The Greatest Story Ever Told—cost $85,000,000. The Bible, his next, will take three years to complete. And it won't be cheap.

I wonder whether Nihil Burton, or Richard or I'll know now loyal to them, Roddy McDowall is. He simply will not talk about them to anyone or to each other. Exasperating, but one must admire the chap.

Ernie Borgnine is not only fighting Katie Jurado, his once ever-loving wife, but he is fighting the problem some people have and some people don't. And I do mean overweight.

Someone tells me that Debbie Reynolds had written a book titled, There's No Business Like Shoe Business, as an out-and-out plug for husband Harry Karl, who made his millions from footwear.

Yul Brynner and George Chakraborty have a nerve-wracking, hand-to-hand fight in their Kings in the Sun picture. In its way it is somewhat reminiscent of the terrible clash between Marlon Brando and Lee J. Cobb in the prize-winning picture, Waterfront.

Daphne du Maurier is one author who is not unhappy when the film of her book has no relation to the story she wrote. She is looking forward to seeing The Birds, she was saying in England, although she understands there is no similarity between her work and that of Hitchcock.

Doris Day's 20-year-old son calls her "Six." It is hard to think of her as his mother. There have been some stories that Doris tries to keep her son in the background. It simply is not true.

From modest Henry Fonda—"I think people sometimes confuse me with the part I play. I'm on stage being witty with someone else's lines, and they think it's the real me. It isn't." Most actors think it's the real me.

Twenty Students Shot By Police in Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Police bullets felled 20 of 400 high school students who went on a wild rampage through a cattle town Thursday after failing to get two teachers of their choice.

In another riot at an oil refining centre, a boy was killed and 13 soldiers were injured in a clash resulting from a strike by civic organizations protesting electric and water shortages.

The students set fire to the town hall, the post office and the telegraph office in Macangana, 300 miles northwest of Bogota. Stores were looted and cars smashed.

Police said 20 students were taken to a hospital in serious condition. The students earlier kidnapped four crew members from an airliner and held them hostage in their school. Police and soldiers charged with tear gas and fired the crew.

Air Fare Struggle Settled

MONTREAL (CP)—The International Air Transport Association announced late Friday that a "solution to the controversy over air fares was indicated" at the conclusion of an emergency meeting in Montreal.

The solution calls for a reduction in round-trip discounts on North Atlantic economy fares and first-class and economy fares on the mid-Atlantic and north and central Pacific routes to five from 10 per cent.

THREE TO FIVE
Depending on the airlines' fare structures, this would work out to increases of from three to five per cent.

One-way economy fares would be reduced by $7 July 16 which would have the effect of lowering the round-trip fare increase.

REACH COMPROMISE
The increase to go into effect by June 1 was basically that reached at Chandler. The reduction in one-way economy fares to go into effect July 16.

Japanese Get Trade Bid From Canada

TOKYO (Reuters)—The foreign ministry said Friday the United States and Canada have invited Japanese firms to explore development possibilities in underdeveloped and new industrial areas in their states and provinces.

The ministry said it favored co-operating with advanced nations with a view to promoting exports of Japanese goods.

The ministry said the Canadian request came from the provinces of British Columbia, Newfoundland, Alberta and Nova Scotia.

British Columbia and Newfoundland were hoping to attract Japanese mining firms to develop iron and other mineral resources.

Nova Scotia wanted automobile manufacturers and Alberta was ready for any kind of industry, the ministry said.

Seven other uranium mines in the area have closed because of lack of demand for their product. With Milliken gone, the number still operating will be three.

represented the main compromise designed to satisfy the Canadian and United States governments.

The United States Civil Aeronautics Board and the Canadian Air Transport Board refused to increase the fares when they were due to come into effect last April 1.

Uranium Mine Will Close

ELLIOT LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Robert H. Winters, president of Rio Algom Mines Limited, announced Friday the Milliken Lake Uranium Mine will close the end of July.

Five hundred workers are employed at the mine in this district 75 miles west of Sudbury.

The announcement was made on the second day of a walkout of 38 employees who refused to work until they received a statement on reports the mine would close.

Big Two Trade Blame For UN Cash Crisis

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The United States and Russia traded blame Friday for the financial crisis facing the United Nations.

Their exchange came in the General Assembly's 111-member budgetary committee after neutralist Ceylon had called for a high-level meeting between the two to try to reconcile differences on financing UN peace-keeping forces.

U.S. delegate Francis Pickens said the "contradiction" was not between the Soviet Union and the United States but between the Soviet Union and the UN.

Soviet delegate Platon Mikoyan replied that the U.S. was challenging the UN charter and trying to tear out those parts it opposed.

They Had Reason to Cheer

Frenzied support of their cheering section apparently paid off for Oak Bay athletes in annual high school track and field meet yesterday at Vic High.

track. Bays won both championships for Roy Jones Memorial Trophy, and retained handicap title won last year.—(Kinsman).

Record-Breaking Track Team Gives Oak Bay Championship

By BOB JEFFREY

Oak Bay High School yesterday shattered five track records on their way to a 154 to 135-point victory over its closest rivals, Victoria High, in the annual Inter-High School track and field meet.

Bays also retained their handicap trophy, which they won last year, as they posted 162 points to Victoria High's 135 on a handicap system based on school population.

Oak Bay went into Friday's track events with a three gross point lead gained during the field events. They never trailed during the whole meet as they wrestled the gross point title from Victoria.

McLAREN STARS

An outstanding performance by Oak Bay's Bob McLaren highlighted the week-long meet, which saw a total of 14 records tumble.

McLaren accounted for five of them. He set new marks for the broad jump and hop, step, and jump during the week and on Friday broke John Warrington's records for the 100 and 220 yards. McLaren ran the 100 in an amazing 9.8 seconds, shaving four-tenths of a second off the old mark. He nipped another four-tenths of a second off the 220 as he galloped the distance in 22.2 seconds.

McLaren got his fifth record when the Oak Bay relay team ran the 480 relay in a time of 45.4 seconds, three-tenths of a second better than Vic High's 1962 effort.

Needless to say, McLaren was senior boys' aggregate trophy winner.

McLaren didn't do all the record-cracking, however. His mate on the relay team, John Edwards, took nine-tenths of a second off the senior boys' 440 mark as he came in with a time of 50.8 seconds.

The fifth Oak Bay triumph to go into the record-book was the effort of the junior boys' relay team, which knocked a full second off the old mark with a time of 46.4.

TWO FOR VICKI

For Vic High it was an unhappy day except for the efforts of Vicki Sargeant, who set two junior girls' sprint records and helped the relay team to a new mark.

She took a tenth of a second off both the 100 and 220-yard records with times of 11.8 and 27.2. The relay team ran the 440 yards in 53.4 seconds, 1.3 seconds better than the old mark.

In the team handicap standings, Esquimalt finished third with 131 points, followed by Mount Doug with 110 and Mount View with 40.

Peter Herold of Esquimalt was junior boys' aggregate winner while Miles Vicki Sargeant was junior girls' champ. Gaynor Vosburgh of Oak Bay took the senior girls' title.

Trail Coach Hits Back Hard Blasts 'Supercargo' Officials

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Hockey coach Bobby Kromm defends himself with the same vehemence that resulted in his recent ejection from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Kromm, who coached Trail Smoke Eaters, repeated earlier statements that the CAHA failed to give his team adequate players and financial assistance for its trip to the 1963 world hockey championships. He then turned his defence into a blistering attack on the CAHA and singled out president Art Potter.

"I asked Mr. Potter to see if he could help on the Bert Olmstead case, a player who would certainly have helped our cause, and he declined," Kromm said.

"He said he would rather see us do it our way as the CAHA did not get along with the pros."

Trail was seeking Olmstead, a retired veteran of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, but could not get the player's release to play amateur hockey.

Commenting on financial aid Trail received, Kromm said bitterly:

"Whatever we received from the CAHA, we earned as we played for it."

"If the CAHA would have left the officials who were just supercargo at home and given the money which was spent for them to the clubs representing Canada, it would help greatly because they do nothing as far as being helpful ambassadors where Canada is concerned."

Kromm said the "supercargo officials" did not once drop down to the dressing room and wish the team good luck.

"My personal feeling is that the CAHA should be fully investigated," he stated.

"Maybe if there are enough men who feel as I do about the CAHA, then this will come to pass."

Kromm blamed himself for Trail's taking fourth place in the championships.

"Probably I mismanaged the team and made mistakes, but when you lose, mistakes are made, so there is no use crying about it. I will take my blame, but will the CAHA take theirs?"

The association's censoring statement said Kromm had used poor judgment in picking players.

The coach replied:

"I have a briefcase filled with letters to able hockey players, but to no avail. Without the money it is impossible to entice Canadian hockey players to return from the U.S. where they are earning healthy salaries."

He said Canada still produces the best hockey players in the world, but they are not remaining at home.

"Granted the CAHA is not to shoulder all of the blame, but certainly it must accept a portion of it," he said.

Disqualifications Mark Racing Card

VANCOUVER (CP)—Exhibition Park race track recorded its first two disqualifications of the season Friday. Officials called infractions in separate races.

In the eighth apprentice jockey Larry Pierce brought Flashy Webb in to a first-place dead heat with Mr. Mad Moment ridden by Dick Buisson.

Stewards called an immediate inquiry and after viewing a film of the race, disqualified Mr. Mad Moment for lugging in at the stretch run, and placed him second.

The second disqualification came in the fourth, when Dame Susie, with Omar Picardo aboard, ran first by three-quarters of a length.

However, Marva, piloted by Bobby Clink, was declared the winner when Dame Susie was disqualified for giving second-place Marva trouble approaching the finish.

Leader in Local Affairs Gerald K. Sammon Dies

An Esquimalt councillor and a leader in Greater Victoria affairs has died suddenly in England.

Coun. Gerald K. Sammon, 53, had recently attended a convention in Ottawa of the Department of Veterans' Affairs Employees National Association, of which he was president. It is believed he was in London on association business when he died of a heart attack Tuesday night.

NOT ONE FINER

"He was a very fine and dedicated councillor—we haven't had a finer councillor," Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele said last night.

Coun. Sammon was chief laboratory technician at the Veterans' Hospital. He had been a member of Esquimalt council since 1953 except for the year 1957.

G. K. SAMMON
... finest councillor

At the time of his death Coun. Sammon was chairman of the Greater Victoria Metropolitan Board of Health and the parks committee of Esquimalt council. He was a member of the Greater Victoria Inter-municipal committee, the Esquimalt sports centre commission and the St. Joseph's Hospital board of directors.

Reeve Wurtele said that during Coun. Sammon's years on council he had served as chairman of "pretty well all" committees of council.

A lab technician in the U.S. and Canada since 1928, Mr. Sammon joined the department of veterans' affairs in 1947.

MEDICAL CORPS

He served overseas with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps during the Second World War and attained the rank of WO2.

Coun. Sammon is survived by his widow, Olive, and a daughter, Fern, a student nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital, at home, 104 Fernhill. Another daughter, Geraldine, lives in Calgary.

UN Drive Stands Near $600

About $500 has been raised toward the $2,000 target set by the UN Association's Victoria branch in its appeal for funds.

The money has been raised by new memberships and donations.

Members are approaching a special list of 500 persons to whom letters were sent recently, asking for donations. The work is expected to be completed in about two weeks.

Community Chest Gets $62 Refund

Victoria's Silver Threads Service, which is largely supported by the Community Chest, has turned over a refund to the Chest from its 1962 operations—$62.01.

Announcement of the refund was made in the annual report of the service which shows it operated on a $13,935.60 budget for the year, against income of $14,015.61.

Contribution from the Community Chest was $13,135 with a further $880.61 being raised by donations, membership fees, bank interest and proceeds from the annual bazaar.

More than 900 members of the Silver Threads Centre took part in activities during the year, including card games, movies, sing-songs, dancing, choral singing, bowling, gardening, ceramics, knitting, oil painting, woodworking, sewing, copper work and flower craft.

Y Seeks Final Effort

The YM-YWCA building fund appeal has reached $771,178 of its $1,138,666 goal, general chairman Hugh Stephen said last night.

He said the campaign had almost exhausted sources of possible support from outside Victoria.

"Unless this vital community project is to fail," he said, "we have to anticipate a much larger response from Victorians than has so far been given."

McKINNON POOL

"In particular I appeal now to the general public to send in donations to the McKinnon pool. There will be no residential canvass and therefore the pool is the only means the public has of supporting the appeal."

"We have success so closely in sight it would be tragic if we failed for lack of that all-important final effort."

Forestry Lab Job Has Top Priority

Construction of the new federal forestry laboratory on Burnside Road, near Trans-Canada Highway, is a top priority project, new Liberal Forests Minister John R. Nicholson said in Victoria yesterday.

"Forest research plays such an important part in the new department of forestry that the sooner we can get this laboratory in operation the better," he said.

CONTRACT LET

"It was originally planned by the Liberal government eight years ago, in 1955. Now the contract has been let and construction started we want to get it in operation as quickly as possible."

Mr. Nicholson visited Victoria for about two hours yesterday.

DAVE PRICE

Seen In Passing

Dave Price directing the inter-high school sports day. (He is track coach for Victoria High School, where he has been for four years. He and his wife Sandra live at 1400 Newport. His hobby? Sports.) . . . Jack Hewitt starting on a pay increase. . . Myra Lapine re-membering Port Arthur. . . May Roberts looking for some missing rhubarb. . . Frank Hughes losing a battle with two steelhead. . . Pearl Hanson pushing a shopping cart. . . Harry Allberry going to his first regimental reunion in 45 years. . . Ken Gillespie returning a hard hat for a friend. . . Barbara Kneung seeing an old friend. . .

Inspection of the new federal forestry research laboratory under construction on West Burnside, near Trans-Canada Highway, was carried out yesterday by the new Liberal Forests Minister, John R. Nicholson, left, during a lightning visit to Victoria. He was accompanied during the tour of inspection by Ray Lejeune, officer in charge of the Victoria forest pathology laboratory. — (Ted Shadickford).

Sergeant Medically Unfit

Policeman Must Retire

Sgt. Stephen Dunnell will be retired from Victoria police department Aug. 31 as medically unfit to carry out full police duties.

WAR PRISONER

Sgt. Dunnell joined the force in 1929 and enlisted in the RCN in 1940. He became a prisoner of war after his ship was sunk.

Proscribed Books Shunned

Books and magazines listed by Ontario and Alberta government censorship boards are not handled by the firm which supplies Victoria newsstands, a spokesman for the firm said last night.

The spokesman for Stan V. Wright Ltd., the wholesaler which handles virtually all periodicals and a large portion of the paperbacks sold on southern Vancouver Island, said the firm refuses to handle magazines or books proscribed by governments of the two other provinces.

NO LEGAL FORCE

Lists prepared by the Ontario attorney-general's committee on alleged obscene literature and the Alberta advisory board on objectionable publications have no legal force in B.C., he said.

But the firm received the lists from an association to which it belongs, Periodical Distributors of Canada, and voluntarily refused to handle books listed by the two government boards.

The spokesman was commenting on a recent request by the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation for government action to rid newsstands of obscene literature.

Temperate Time

Temperatures should be temperate this weekend, ranging from 68 to 75 in the day, time to 46 at night, according to weather office predictions.

Free of Charge

Smoke Probe Services Offered Outside Areas

Victoria will offer the services of its smoke inspector free of charge to certain areas outside the city boundaries which are causing a general smoke problem.

First to be contacted will be operators of lumber mills in the Plummer Bay area and the RCN Pacific Command.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, chairman of the city's smoke advisory committee, said: "We may not have amalgamation, but we do all share the same air."

"I'm sure that the outlying areas will be glad to co-operate with us in an attempt to clear up the situation for the benefit of everyone."

32 Sign Up For Flight To Dam Site

Thirty-two persons—more than enough to fill a DC-3 aircraft—have already signed up for a Victoria Chamber of Commerce tour to the Peace River power development June 19.

Chamber manager John Copping reported last night that four other chamber members have showed definite interest in the tour, which will include a flight over the Rocky Mountain Trench and the dam site and a guided tour on land of the work area.

'Handle Own Problems' Says Indian Director

At the meeting of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society a report was given on the recent visit of Mr. John Melting, executive director of the Indian-Eskimo Association. He suggested that local groups interested in Indian welfare should handle their own problems. Mr. Melting also reported that a 10-day training course will be held at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon from Sept. 25 to Oct. 4 to acquaint personnel how to run the new type of Friendship Houses that are going up across Canada to help bridge the gap between life on reserves and life in cities.

An accounting was given of the 120 pounds of clothing and one case of dishes sent to a burnt-out Ahousat family whose father is a World War II veteran.

Prize-winning essays from the entries received in the Folklore essay contest were read. These entries came from 25 pupils of five Indian residential and day schools from 10 different bands. The winners were Joseph Giger of Christie Indian Residential School, Danny Norris of Westhorne Indian Day School, and Jennifer Martin of Kuper Island Indian Residential School. Honorable mention went to Joan Morris and Beverly Charlie of Kuper Island School.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: If you can help with this one the entire office force will be eternally grateful. A certain woman who works with us has a habit of emphasizing her remarks by punching them in the ribs or landing her fist on a shoulder or a back.

These are not love-taps, Ann. They are enough to knock a person off balance. Nobody will go to a movie or a play with her any more because her blows have actually caused black and blue marks.

We have tried to break her of the habit by making a joke of it, but she just doesn't realize that we are kidding on the square. She goes along her merry way, punching, hitting, shoving and knocking people around.

Please publish this letter. She may see herself and cut it out. Thanks in advance. BATTERED AND BRUISED. Dear B. and B.: Here's the letter but don't count on her "seeing herself." The habit is an unconscious one.

The only way to cure her is to stop kidding and tell her what she is doing. When she

My fiancée is teaching in Niagara Falls. Betty and I exchange letters several times a week but see each other only during long holidays.

In spite of my efforts to keep busy I've become strongly attracted to another young woman. I feel like a rat because I've kept Betty waiting for three years. I'm sure she has been true to me and has passed up other opportunities to date. Betty is a fine girl and I'd rather die than hurt her.

Shall I marry her this summer as planned? I want to do the honorable thing but I'm afraid I'm in love with the girl here. —DUNCAN CAP.

Dear Cap: Do nothing until you see Betty. After renewing the relationship in person, if you STILL feel the other girl is the one for you by all means level with your fiancée. There's nothing "honorable" about marrying a girl you don't love.

AMY By Harry Mace

Keep Cool

Women interested in keeping active and cool this summer may join the "Y" summer swimming classes beginning Wednesday, June 5, and continuing through July.

Beginners and non-swimmers will meet at 9:30 through 10:15 and swimmers from 10:15 to 11 a.m. A new mother-and-tot class will run from 11 to 11:30 the same day. There is an evening class from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

All classes will be held at the YMCA pool.

EVER-FRESH SANDWICHES Please sandwiches will keep moist and fresh if made from frozen bread slices from the freezer. They'll be thawed for eating in about two hours.

Gabriola Island Site Of New Parkland

The B.C. government has purchased more than 40 acres at the south end of Gabriola Island for development as a new marine park.

Cabinet authorization for the $38,000 purchase by the provincial parks branch was given yesterday.

A parks official said so far there is no plan or timetable for development of the land. It will be called Drum Begg Park.

The parkland is situated near Gabriola Pass and features a sandy beach.

Funeral Set Today

Mrs. Marjorie Elaine Luck, a native Victorian, died Tuesday after a long illness. She was 44.

Funeral services will be held in Sands Memorial Chapel of Chimes at 9 a.m. today.

Mrs. Luck attended school in Victoria and Sidney, and received the LRSM degree in music.

She was an avid gardener and was a member of the Rock and Alpine Garden Society and the Royal London Horticultural Society.

She is survived by her husband, Harry; a brother, Martin Willard, of Riverside, Calif., and many relatives in Vancouver and Seattle.

OTTAWA (CP) — With the link barely dry on a communiqué announcing formation of a ramshackle NATO nuclear force, a Progressive Conservative backbencher, Gordon Fairweather (PC-Royal) said the Canadian public views the development with cynicism because it knows that "such a force has no real military reason for existence."

Stiff Battle

Chambers Girded For Fish Debate

Exhaustive last-minute preparations have been made by officials of Vancouver Island Chambers of Commerce in preparation for a verbal battle in Vancouver next week about the Vancouver Island fishery.

Stiff opposition is expected to develop at the annual meeting Monday and Tuesday of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce to some parts of a resolution, backed by Island chambers, which calls for equitable distribution of fish resources between commercial and sports fishermen.

The resolution is scheduled to come up for discussion Tuesday and opposition is expected from commercial fishing interests by way of certain mainland chambers.

Robert Wright of the Oak Bay Board of Trade, an active member of Vancouver Island's Amalgamated Conservation Society which drew up the brief on which the Island chambers' resolution is based, is expected to lead the fight for the resolution at the B.C. chamber meeting.

ISLAND DELEGATES
A number of other delegates from Island chambers are expected to speak for the resolution, including Cliff W. Laver of Courtenay, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

Gunmen Play Robin Hood

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters) — Three gunmen held up a truck loaded with food here Friday and distributed its load among people in a shanty town. The gunmen, who vanished afterwards, described themselves as "a commando of repression against hunger."

Members of Vancouver Island, and two or three delegates from the Victoria chamber.

A one-chamber-one-vote system gives the 25 chambers of commerce on Vancouver Island about 20 per cent of the votes in the B.C. chamber.

Fugitive May Win Immigrant Status

OTTAWA (CP) — Fugitive Weldon Chan, the Hong Kong Chinese who "vanished" 3½ years ago to escape deportation, may soon be able to come out of hiding.

Immigration Minister Guy Favreau told the Commons Friday that the question of giving landed immigrant status to Chan is "under serious consideration."

AROUND MIDDLE
Replying to Ron Barford (L-Vancouver-Burrard), Mr. Favreau said he may be able to report a decision around the middle of next week.

If the immigration department decides to give Chan the status of a landed immigrant it would automatically quash the federal deportation order issued in November, 1959, against Chan, his wife and daughter.

OUT OF SIGHT
Chan vowed then that he would never be deported and promptly dropped out of sight.

WELDON CHAN
... decision soon

Since then he has evaded the RCMP, immigration authorities and other police forces who have had a warrant out for his arrest since shortly after the disappearance.

Not even the threat to prosecute persons found harboring the fugitive has had any effect.

JUMP AHEAD
Several times investigators have been close to nabbing him but on each occasion the elusive Chinese has been one jump ahead of the immigration men.

The department has not acted on the deportation order against Mrs. Chan or her daughter, pending capture of Chan himself.

Mrs. Chan is working in the kitchen at the University of British Columbia restaurant in Vancouver and Alice, now 10, attends a private Roman Catholic school.

There have been many rumors reporting him in Vancouver, Toronto, Montreal or American West Coast cities with large Chinese populations.

Co-operation

UN Project Topic

Victorians will meet in a day-long conference today to tackle the question of what Canadians can do to foster international co-operation.

The conference, sponsored by the Victoria committee, Voice of Women, will launch a project the group has undertaken to promote interest in the proposed United Nations International Co-operation Year.

TO STUDY QUESTIONS
The project is aimed at encouraging individuals and organizations to study questions of international co-operation and, through ICY committee, to make proposals to the Canadian government for ICY project ones International Co-operation year has been designated by the UN.

Professor John Bryan Wood of the University of B.C., a life member of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, will discuss the field of education.

SOCIAL FIELD
Dr. Leonard C. Marsh, also of UBC, a social scientist, will discuss the social field. Professor C. S. Burchill, history and economics professor at Royal Roads, will discuss strengthening the UN.

PARTICIPANTS
Organizations officially represented at the conference will include the Greater Victoria chapter of the Canadian Council of Churches, the Victoria branch of the UN Association, the Vancouver Island branch of the Canadian Association of Social Workers, and the Unitarian Fellowship of Victoria.

The Saanich Teachers Association and the Parent-Teacher Association Council will also take part.

COMMITTEE PLANNED
An initial International Co-operation Year committee will be set up at the conference.

Guests from the Port Angeles area, Vancouver and up-Island also will attend.

Conference runs from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Tally-Ho Travelodge.

The UN has set up a preparatory committee consisting of representatives of 12 nations, including Canada, which will report to the General Assembly next fall on the desirability of designating 1965 as International Co-operation Year.

Fairy Godmother Only Hope

"A fairy godmother" seems the only hope left for two Victoria housewives who want to save historic Cloverdale House from the wreckers.

"We are looking for a fairy godmother, just about," Mrs. Theona Monckton, 1894 Hampshire, said last night after a meeting with provincial secretary Wesley Black.

"We have approached several organizations, trying to interest them in taking on a public appeal to buy the property, but without success."

Mrs. Monckton and Mrs.

Joyce McCulloch, 1132 Goodwin, have until June 1 to save the house. On that date demolition of the house is scheduled to start.

Footsore late-night shoppers Friday made good use of the elevator which is now in operation at the View Street parking facility.

The garage opened during the Christmas rush while still incomplete and patrons have climbed the stairs to the upper levels during the past five months.

New signs indicating pedestrian access to the parking facility have been erected in the middle of the 700-block Fort.

Annual inter-school sports for Greater Victoria elementary schools will be held at eight locations May 31.

Sports for Grade 6 students will be held at Windsor Park, Carnarvon Park, Sheilbourne School, Lake Hill School, S. J. Willis Junior High School, and Frank Hobbs School.

Grade 7 students will hold their sports events at Hampton Park and Central Park.

Junior high school students will hold their annual inter-school sports meet at MacDonald Park, June 7, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Take your car... Leave your cares... Go CN

the
way!

Another first from Canadian National. Now you can take your car with you. Yet avoid the drudgery and hazards of long-distance driving. Who drives? CN! Who's sitting pretty? Both you and your car. In the safe, sure comfort of a CN train.

CN's Car-Go-Rail plan takes your car from Vancouver to Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto or Montreal. Effective June 15th to Sept. 30th inclusive.

Your auto, loaded with vacation gear, travels in an enclosed auto transporter by fast freight — while you and friends or family relax in luxury aboard a CN passenger train. You're travelling fast, too. Fast enough to add days to the fun of being there. Those long-driving-miles become lovely Canadian scenery — miles when you travel Car-Go-Rail. If you like, let CN drive one way and you drive the other. Either way, you're ahead in time, comfort and money!

This new CN travel plan is available for Coach, Tourist or First Class. One price includes — rail fare, sleeping accommodation, meals, tips — and your car.

Let CN take you and your car on a real holiday. For full details, literature and reservations, call your local travel agent or CN sales office.

Here are sample all inclusive tourist fares based on 3 adults travelling together — for cars with wheelbase of 114" and under.

10 STOREYS, PENTHOUSE

'Open House' Launches High Rise

Victoria's newest high-rise apartment, Seaview Towers, 450 Dallas Road at Menzies, will be opened to the public Saturday between the hours of 1 and 5 in the afternoon. The "open house" marks the end of 10 months of construction to complete the 10-storey (plus penthouse) apartment block.

Situated close to Beacon Hill Park and within easy walking distance of downtown Victoria, the building occupies a site which will provide tenants with a scenic panorama.

This includes the snow-capped Olympic mountains, Juan de Fuca Strait and the interesting shipping activities at Ogden Point harbor.

It is also a stone throw from the beach and a short distance from the yacht pool.

The suites in the apartment total 58. These include bachelor, one-bedroom, two-bedroom and three-bedroom suites, as well as the penthouse.

Presently under construction is a two-storey apartment adjoining the main structure which will contain 16 additional suites when completed sometime this fall.

The spacious suites, furnished with oak floors throughout, are all equipped with refrigerators and electric stoves. All windows are provided with curtains.

Tenants will have at their disposal two elevators.

Storage Facilities

In the basement there are storage facilities for each tenant, as well as a laundry room equipped with three automatic washers and three automatic dryers.

Outside there is a black top parking lot which tenants can use free of charge, but there will be a small fee for use of covered parking lots.

In front, the building has been landscaped with evergreens, broom and other shrubs in keeping with the surrounding seascape. Bamboo is used effectively near the entrance.

The entrance is controlled and inside is a tastefully decorated lounge.

Plans call for the construction of a swimming pool which will face Dallas Road. Contractor is Marquardt Construction Ltd.

Caution Urged

Worst Week For Fires

On the heels of this year's worst week for B.C. forest fire fighters an official pleaded Friday for greater care by the public.

The weekly fire report disclosed all but one of 88 fires in the Kamloops district were caused by "the human element."

Mounting Hourly

Throughout the province there were 198 new fires and the forest hazard was mounting hourly. By late Friday it was listed as moderate to high in most districts, including Vancouver Island.

Only one fire was burning on the Island—a minor blaze near Cowichan Lake.

EXTREME CAUTION

Forest officials warned warm weather is expected to continue into next week and asked the public to use "extreme caution" in the woods.

Since May 1 there have been 321 fires in B.C.—up from 192 during the same period last year. Firefighting costs had hit $26,130 up to yesterday compared with a corresponding 1962 figure of only $4,550.

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — The Presbyterian minister who married Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to the former Mrs. Margaretta Fidler Murphy was formally censured Friday by a board of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.

Rev. Marshall Smith was accused of failing to obtain the required permission of his presbytery to marry a person divorced less than a year.

B.C. Gives $186,637

The B.C. government Friday authorized the second instalment of the $248,850 grant which it has pledged to honor Canada's Fathers of Confederation.

Its second payment toward construction of a commemorative building at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, amounted to $186,637. Last year's instalment was $29,862. The balance is due next year.

The building is to be completed for Canada's centenary in 1967.

Average 85.5 For Victorian

Runner-up for top graduating student at Victoria University in the degree of arts and science, John P. Lawrence of Victoria has achieved an average of 85.5 per cent, not 88.5 per cent as previously reported.

Two Win Fish

W. S. Crowe, 156 Lurline, and H. M. Turner, 2151 Park View Drive, won the two salmon raffled at the Outdoors Booth of the Saanich Boatmen's Association and the Victoria and Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association at the Jaycee fair last week.

Proceeds of $150.60 will go to the Handicapped Children's Fund.

Convicts Tell Troubles

VANCOUVER (CP) — The "bull session" a system whereby prisoners talk over their experiences and problems under guidance of counsellors, will be introduced at Oakalla Prison Farm.

The prison, in nearby Burnaby, is for persons serving terms up to two years and for prisoners in transit between court and penitentiary.

Warden H. Mulligan, who replaced Warden Hugh Christie early in May, pioneered the "bull session" method as warden at Prince George, B.C. There he had 100 prisoners; at Oakalla he has 1,040.

"We can't afford to regard a prison as a fort," he said in an interview.

OVER AND OVER
"And we can't just be processing the same men over and over as they keep returning to jail. By good leadership and good example we must do something to restore and rehabilitate the men who come to us."

One of the main problems is finding the right type of staff, because "bad authority is a terrible danger."

Warden Mulligan became a probationary guard at Oakalla in 1948. He moved to supervisor of the young offenders' unit in 1951, and in 1954 became chief custodial officer.

DEPUTY WARDEN
He was transferred to Prince George as deputy warden in 1956 and the following year became warden.

"Today's young criminals aren't particularly tougher than those of a generation ago, but they're more sophisticated."

"In this business, I have to be an optimist. I believe there's some eventual worth in every man, no matter how bad outwardly. To change them even in a small way is an accomplishment even though this is sometimes done under difficult or unhappy conditions. You've got to have a bit of missionary in you."

'They're Persecuting Me ...I've Suffered Enough'

A man who obtained two watches from Victoria jewellers through issuing worthless cheques two years ago expressed violent surprise when he was found guilty in city magistrate's court Friday on two counts of false pretences.

"Why didn't they put the arm on my shoulder when I got out of Oakalla and say 'we want you'?" demanded Spencer Foley, recently given six months here on a charge of false pretences and an additional six months for contempt of court.

TWO YEARS
"That was two years ago. They're persecuting me. It's a miscarriage of justice."

Foley told the court: "I've suffered enough."

Magistrate William Oatley said Foley had no reason to assume the most recent charges brought would be contempt.

Foley was sentenced to six months on each count of false pretences. Sentences will run concurrently.

Earlier Foley claimed he had been sentenced on the Victoria charges along with a number of other offences when he appeared in Vancouver magistrate's court in front of Magistrate Oscar Orr.

Foley admitted obtaining a watch from Henry Birks Ltd., Victoria, worth $98.25 and another watch from Rose's Jewellers worth $62.95.

The trial was adjourned until Friday to permit Vancouver magistrate's court clerk William Edwards to appear with court records of Foley's Vancouver trial.

THE RECORD showed Foley had appeared on a number of charges in Vancouver and surrounding municipalities but none in Victoria.

The list of previous convictions read after Foley was found guilty included false pretences, breaking and entering and theft, obtaining stolen property, violation of the immigration laws and theft over $50.

Michael Hubber, 114 Wildwood, who entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of breaking and entering Fairfield Food Market, was remanded for a second time. He will appear for trial May 28.

Roy Lindley, no fixed address, was remanded to May 31 on a charge of theft of two coats valued under $50 from Metropolitan Stores May 11.

In Oak Bay court Magistrate A. I. Thomas sentenced Griffith Jones, 1042 Monterey, to the minimum sentence of 14 days in jail after he was found guilty of impaired driving.

The court was told it was Jones' second such offence. Defence counsel Jack Gatehouse asked that the minimum sentence be imposed.

Area Parent-Teacher Unit Picks Mrs. Restall Again

Mrs. R. B. Restall was re-elected president of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council at the council's annual meeting last night in North Ward School.

Also elected were Mrs. Shirley Eden, first vice-president; Mrs. Olive Hall, secretary, and Mrs. Estelle Inman, treasurer.

A budget of $160 was passed for council expenditures during the coming year.

Tenders will be called May 31 for a new building for McKendrick Avenue School, it was announced.

Mrs. Restall accompanied a delegation from the school to Education Minister Peterson May 6 to protest insufficient and ill-heated classrooms in the school's annex building, and overcrowding in the main building.

The department of education had previously rejected proposed building plans for the school, saying they were 20 per cent above the maximum allotted for the improvements.

Officiating at double keel-laying of two new government ferries were wife of Nanaimo mayor, Mrs. Pete Maffeo (right), and Mayor Beth Wood (left) of New Westminster, at Victoria Machinery Depot's Outer Wharf yard. Two new queens will be named after the two cities. Premier Bennett and VMD president Harold Humphreys are left and right.—(Ryan Bros.)

Night Ships 'One Day'

Premier Bennett publicly pledged Friday the B.C. government would look into the question of night ferries.

He was speaking at the keel-laying of the two newest ferry system ships, Queen of Nanaimo and Queen of New Westminster, at the Outer Wharf yard of Victoria Machinery Depot.

AS TIME GOES

"We might even need all-night service one day," he said. "We must meet these problems as time goes on."

In the meantime, he said, immediate problems would be handled first.

Mrs. Pete Maffeo, wife of Nanaimo's mayor, sponsored the queen named after her city, as did Mayor Beth Wood of New Westminster.

ON SAME RUN

Mr. Bennett said both ships would be used on the run from Nanaimo to the mainland.

"We will have four modern ships on that run next year," he said. "Nanaimo will have hourly service."

The Queen of Nanaimo is scheduled to be launched sometime in November, the New Westminster in 1964.

LOWEST OF SIX

Mr. Bennett said the two ships, worth $3,500,000 each, would have $350,000 in improvements in each ship even though their cost to the government is the lowest of the six built by VMD.

Mr. Bennett said he was glad the price was low and VMD still was making a profit.

"When you can get both, it is a happy situation indeed," he said.

German Reds Give Way To Workers

BERLIN (UPI)—A strike threat by 10,000 workers in the East German city of Magdeburg has forced the Communist government to abandon an industrial speedup and a cut in wages, a private West Berlin intelligence organization reported Friday.

A similar industrial speedup caused the East German workers' revolt of June 17, 1953, but no reports were available here that the mood of workers was as bad as it was 10 years ago.

The Information Bureau West said the speedup was ordered to try to make up production losses caused by the severe winter. It said 10,000 workers at a machine tool plant threatened to quit.

Peterson

Empress: No Strike

"The strike is definitely off."

That was the word at 6:30 p.m. Friday from an exhausted but jubilant Labor Minister Peterson, who had spent the day conferring with parties in the Empress Hotel labor dispute.

A strike was scheduled to begin midnight Friday.

"As of 6:25 agreement has been reached on terms of reference to be submitted to an arbitrator," Mr. Peterson said.

He said representatives of the Canadian Pacific hotel and Local 276 of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC), have agreed to accept the man he appoints as arbitrator, and have agreed the arbitrator's findings shall be binding on both parties.

"The main battle is over now," Mr. Peterson said.

The next step, he said, is for

Bennett Dream At End Of Line

The Pacific Northern Railway Friday went the way of the international financier who promoted it — it died.

With its death went one of the Bennett government's fondest dreams — a 700-mile railway from Prince George to the Yukon.

The railway was the crown jewel of a northern B.C. industrial empire envisioned by the late Axel Wenner-Gren. First it was to be a revolutionary monorail capable of 100-mile-an-hour speeds, but later it was to be a conventional railway.

Its death knell was sounded in a provincial cabinet order that rescinded the railway's special borrowing powers, proposed right-of-way and authority to use crown land for same.

The PNR died hard. When opposition forces in 1960 branded it a promoter's pipe dream and a government giveaway, grand opening of construction was staged in a clearing a few miles north of Prince George where Premier Bennett cut down a tree and vowed work would never cease until the Yukon was reached.

The tree was practically the last to fall.

In 1962 the project was dormant but Transport Minister Westwood said the government wouldn't cancel the railway's certificate in case the company decided to go ahead.

But the government did confiscate a $15,000 company good faith deposit.

B.C. Legal Official Angry

Kidnap Report 'Shocking'

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

B.C. deputy attorney-general Gilbert Kennedy was shocked and angered yesterday at word that Loomis robbery fugitive Douglas John Brown had been denied legal rights in Brazil.

GILBERT KENNEDY
... nothing to do with it

"I wouldn't be a party to it. Everyone is entitled to habeas corpus."

He said his department had been fully expecting to go through due process of law in attempting to bring Brown back to B.C. He personally had been working on the case since earlier in the day.

"Never at any time during the day did we imagine that he would be deprived of the due process of law. We have had nothing to do with any kidnapping and do not condone his being held in detention incommunicado."

LOOMIS MAN SENT NORTH

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP-AP)—Canadian robbery suspect Douglas John Brown was bodily shoved up the steps into a Brazilian jetliner Friday night en route to the United States.

Fugitive Denied Rights

Two plainclothes detectives drove Brown to the airport in a tire-screaming taxi and immediately hustled him through a throng of Brazilian reporters and into the Varig airliner which was scheduled to arrive in New York at 7:30 a.m. today.

Brown is sought by Vancouver police in an investigation of the theft of $25,000 from the Loomis Armored Car Service in the British Columbia city.

MAID NOTHING

Reporters asked Brown such questions as "Going voluntarily?" "Got money?" and "Where's the money?" But Brown, appearing bewildered, said nothing as he was hustled up the steps into the plane.

MOVED INTO PLANE

The police gave Brown a final shove, sending him into the plane, then turned around and made sure no reporters boarded the plane. Moments later the plane taxied off.

All the passengers in the jetliner were in their seats before Brown's arrival.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sun quotes Rio Police Chief Gustavo Borges as saying in a telephone interview: "Brown surrendered quietly. He has not been charged with any crime here. He is being held in strict secrecy at police headquarters."

Borges explained that Brown was held in secrecy in an attempt to circumvent the law of habeas corpus until he can be placed aboard a plane for New York.

Borges was quoted as saying the "kidnapping technique" was used in the arrest of Brown.

"It is the usual method used by Brazilian police to get what we call undesirable out of the country."

Treaty Pledge

No 'Washout' Over Columbia

VANCOUVER (CP) — Forestry Minister J. R. Nicholson said Friday there is no justification for any belief Canada is going to ask the U.S. to wash out the present Columbia River development treaty.

The minister said at a press conference all the present treaty needs is "correction and particularly clarification."

"It is our intention to come to grips with this problem."

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government should inform the U.S. and British Columbia the Columbia River treaty is not satisfactory and renegotiation should be undertaken based on recommendations of the International Joint Commission, H. W. Herdridge (NDP—Kootenay West) said Friday.

New Motel Destroyed By Flames

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP) — A $250,000 motor hotel was destroyed by fire Friday near Fort St. John. No one was injured.

Robert Wilmanere said the fire started early Friday afternoon and was believed to have been ignited by a short circuit in the wiring below the kitchen area.

About 500 persons gathered to watch firemen battle the blaze for three hours.

The hotel, three miles west of Fort St. John and about 400 miles northwest of Edmonton, was constructed about four months ago.

Wife Says Writ Ready

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Lavina Brown said Friday night Brazilian authorities must have ignored a writ of habeas corpus when they shipped her husband out of Rio de Janeiro to face robbery charges.

She said the writ was obtained by lawyers to prevent just such a deportation. His wife said a Vancouver law firm, which has been working with associates in Brazil, will try to take action when the plane lands in New York.

Alabama Governor Faces Court On State Sovereignty Issue

Just Can't Be Too Careful

Haiti's President Duvalier "rides highway dedication following his self-proclaimed inaugural to second term

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge has ordered defiant Alabama Governor George Wallace into court next month for a legal showdown on the state sovereignty issue raised by the governor in his pledge to keep two Negroes out of a state university.

Assuming federal sovereignty, the U.S. justice department moved Friday for an injunction against Wallace's interfering with the enrolment of Negro students at the University of Alabama.

A governor "has no authority by 'interposition' or otherwise to obstruct or prevent the execution of the lawful orders of a court of the United States," the justice department said.

Under a court order, Vivian J. Malone, 20, of Mobile is to become the second Negro ever admitted to the main campus at Tuscaloosa and David M. McGlathery, 27, will attempt to enrol at the university centre in Huntsville, his hometown.

'Lavender Hill Mob' Scores

LONDON (UPI) — Four bandits clad in blue overalls, their faces covered by women's silk stockings, stole half a ton of gold bullion bars worth $380,000 Friday in what police said was Britain's biggest gold theft.

The thieves grabbed the gold in a spectacular lunchtime raid on a bullion broker's warehouse in the City of London business section.

The simplicity of the operation recalled a classic Alec Guinness film, The Lavender Hill Mob.

Three of the members of the gang pounced on warehouse guard Percy Houghton immediately after a bullion truck delivered 80 gold bars from Rothchild's Bank.

They clubbed him and tied him to a chair. They they loaded 40 of the bars, each weighing 28 pounds, into a delivery truck and sped away in the wrong direction on a one-way street.

Unusual 'Suspects' In Lovers' Lane

OTTAWA (CP) — The other night, neighbors in east Ottawa's Sandy Hill district decided to put an end to nocturnal activities of car parkers in Mirabeau Park.

They called police and who do you think they caught? Alderman "Charlie" H. Germaine and me," a blushing Mayor Charlotte Whitton told board of control Thursday.

She said they went to the park from another civic meeting to check the validity of complaints about the "lovers' lane."

"We weren't there five minutes and up pulled a police car with lights flashing," Miss Whitton related.

To the obviously embarrassed policemen, Alderman St. Germaine blithely explained: "We're just getting evidence."

The policeman, according to Mayor Whitton, replied: "Oh, go right ahead."

Sugar

What Shortage? Asks the World

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

The price of sugar has quadrupled this year, and most of the rise has taken place in the past few weeks. The world market price has risen from about $60 a ton to about $270 a ton.

A 10-pound bag of sugar selling a few months ago at about 50 cents is now costing about $1.50. It may go higher yet.

The increase is also putting up the price of practically every foodstuff that has a sugar content.

Nobody is happy about it. Questions are being asked in parliament—not only in Canada, but in countries all over the world.

The politicians want to know what is happening. Are the increases justified, or is it another gigantic market manoeuvre in which the sharp boys make their killing and the housewives have to pay for it?

The known facts of the sugar boom are that Cuba failed to deliver its normal crop in 1962, and this was accentuated by a widespread failure of the European sugar beet crop.

As a result the available sugar supply this year amounts to about 51,000,000 tons, against a normal annual consumption of 56,000,000 tons.

So far no one is actually short of sugar, but the fear exists that shortages may develop, and as a result of that fear the major users of sugar—such as the soft drink industry and the candy makers—have taken fright and have been laying in stocks of sugar for future delivery.

It was this demand for futures which started the sugar scare. Smaller commercial users of sugar got into the act as well, to assure themselves of a sugar supply before prices went further ahead. Most housewives, too, have laid in

High Level to Stay

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sugar prices may stay at their high level into 1964, Forrest Rogers, president of the B.C. Sugar Refining Company, said here Friday. He said prices will level off when some countries stop buying sugar because of the high price.

Fear of Rising Prices Is Raising Prices—And Speculators Hit Sweet Bonanza

Shawnigan Lake Preparing for Busy Summer

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — The resort area at the "Lake of Spirits," the translation of the Indian word Shawnigan, is getting ready for a brisk tourist season. Shawnigan Beach Hotel operator Denis M. Hurley said this hotel will open June 1. As every year, Mr. Hurley expects an 84 per cent repeat business. He said many of his guests from numerous Canadian and U.S. resorts spend their holidays at the resort hotel year after year.

Mr. Hurley said, "Shawnigan Lake is the island's largest fresh-water resort."

The large lake area with its 21 miles of shoreline is studded with approximately 400 summer homes and the three private schools with international reputation. Shawnigan Lake Boys', Strathcona Lodge and Cliffside Preparatory Schools contribute largely to the community's economy.

Mr. Hurley maintained, "the schools are the biggest secondary industry at Shawnigan Lake."

FULFORD — A new east window, depicting the Virgin Mary and Holy Babe in exquisite coloring, with floral sprays on either side, has been placed in St. Mary's Church in Fulford. This window was donated by members of the congregation and the dedication service will be held on Sunday, June 2 at 2:30 p.m.

NANAIMO — Beaches in the Nanaimo area will be thoroughly combed for oysters and clams by Jaycees this weekend.

Once again the Nanaimo Jaycees are putting on an oyster dinner for the annual B.C. Jaycee convention. This year the convention is being held in Prince George May 29 until June 3. About 500 delegates are expected.

QUALICUM BEACH — Dr. D. B. Quayle of the Biological Station at Nanaimo, will be guest speaker at an open meeting of the Qualicum and District Fish and Game Association on Friday, May 31 at the K. of P. Hall. This will be the final meeting of the association until it reconvenes in October.

NANAIMO — Hugh Taylor has been elected president of the Unitarian Fellowship for the coming year.

Also elected were Alister McLeod, vice-president; Mrs. Betty Rogers, secretary; William Taylor, treasurer.

Summer activities will include a summer seminar for island members at Shawnigan Lake July 1 and a picnic on Protection Island Aug. 11.

LADYSMITH — Careless driving cost Wayne D. Poppeston of Duncan $25 when he appeared in police court. Wayne

T. Allen, Duncan, paid $20 for speeding. A fine of $15 was imposed on Harry Frenchy, Chemainus Bay, for allowing a minor without a driver's licence to drive a car. All three pleaded guilty.

Two juvenile boys admitted consuming liquor in a public place and driving with no licence respectively. They were fined $10 each.

NANAIMO — A 21-year-old driver was fined $150 on a charge of impaired driving here Friday. Magistrate Lionel Beavor-Potts also suspended Frank Allan Garrows' licence until July 15.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — A Maytime medley will start tonight at 8:15 p.m. at the Shawnigan Lake Hall. The variety concert is sponsored by the All Saints' W.A. and proceeds are earmarked for church repairs and painting.

The home of Stan Tyerman on Bamerton Road will be the scene Sunday of the annual gymkhana held by the Malahat Trail Riders. The affair will start at 1 p.m.

May 29 is the date for an address by guest speaker, M.L.A. Alan MacFarlane, at the Cobble Hill Hall, commencing at 8 p.m. Sponsoring body is the Cobble Hill Liberal Association.

DUNCAN — William E. Henson of Victoria was convicted in police court on a charge of consuming liquor in a public place and was fined $50.

Charged with careless driving and failing to submit an accident report, James A. Vaux, Duncan, was convicted on the first and fined $25 and pleaded guilty to the second and paid $10.

NANAIMO — Two business offices on Terminal Avenue were broken into Thursday night but nothing was stolen. RCMP are investigating the break-ins at Wilton Motors and Bogardus Wilson.

Fulford Records Melt

FULFORD — The 45th Victoria Day parade and celebrations were held on the warmest May day in history on Salt Spring Island. It was so hot that four of A. D. Dane's special records melted before he could stir things up with music.

Despite the heat, a good crowd gathered to watch the crowning of lovely Queen Sharyn Reynolds by her sister Nancy, last year's May Queen.

Royal princesses were Lois Hodger and Betsy Queneel and page boy was Kerry Akerman. The Royal Float was sent from Nanaimo, by courtesy of the B.C. Hydro, and led the parade at 1 p.m.

The May Queen's Honor Guard were men from the Canadian Scottish Regiment. Duncan, and the Sea Cadets marched behind. In charge of Sea Cadet Master, Ray Hill.

There were fewer floats in the parade than usual but they were well done. Special mention went to Derek and Harold Hartema, Fernwood Farms, in a cart drawn by their palomino pony, Pacific Paddy.

The children in their costume parade were excellent. Winning decorated floats were the Royal Canadian Legion, the Beaver Point Community, and the Wagon Wheels Dance float and the Artillery Fire Department tied for third.

The perpetual shield given by the Fulford Hall Committee was presented to the Legion float.

Judges were Dr. E. A. Jarman, Mrs. D. K. Crofton and Miss Bea Hamilton, while Mrs. A. McManus Jr., Mrs. Ken Doda, and Mrs. Mike Byron judged the children's costumes. Directed by Mike Byron, junior and senior sports were run during the afternoon.

Mrs. A. Stevens and women of Beaver Point served tea and ran a home-cooking stall in Mahon Hall, and down on the hot dog stall, Mrs. F. Hollings, Mrs. J. Roland, Mrs. D. Slingsby, Mrs. Edna Fraser and Mrs. R. Kitchen kept busy.

Other hard workers were Mrs. J. Bennett, Miss G. Shaw, Miss Nan Ruckie, Gwen Ruckie, Mrs. G. Ruckie, Mrs. G. Reynolds, Mrs. J. Stewart,

Take your car... Leave your cares... Go CN

Another first from Canadian National. Now you can take your car with you. Yet avoid the drudgery and hazards of long-distance driving. Who drives? CN! Who's sitting pretty? Both you and your car. In the safe, sure comfort of a CN train.

CN's Car-Go-Rail plan takes your car from Vancouver to Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto or Montreal. Effective June 15th to Sept. 30th inclusive.

Your auto, loaded with vacation gear, travels in an enclosed auto transporter by fast freight — while you and friends or family relax in luxury aboard a CN passenger train. You're travelling fast, too. Fast enough to add days to the fun of being there. Those long-driving miles become lovely Canadian scenery — miles when you travel Car-Go-Rail. If you like, let CN drive one way and you drive the other. Either way you're ahead in time, comfort and money!

This new CN travel plan is available for Coach, Tourist or First Class. One price includes — rail fare, sleeping accommodation, meals, tips, and your car.

Let CN take you and your car on a real holiday. For full details, literature and reservations, call your local travel agent or CN sales office.

Here are sample all inclusive tourist fares based on 3 adults travelling together — for car with wheelbase of 114" and under.

STRIKE OFF AT EMPRESS

"The strike is definitely off."

That was the word at 6:30 p.m. Friday from an exhausted but jubilant Labor Minister Peterson, who had spent the day conferring with parties in the Empress Hotel labor dispute.

Khrushchev To Visit Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has accepted an invitation to visit Cuba, the "first socialist state in America," the Soviet government announced Friday. He also warned that Russia would reply to any attack on Cuba "with all the means at its disposal."

Treaty Pledge

No 'Washout' Over Columbia

VANCOUVER (CP)—Forestry Minister J. R. Nicholson said Friday there is no justification for any belief Canada is going to ask the U.S. to wash out the present Columbia River development treaty.

The minister said at a press conference all the present treaty needs is "correction and particularly clarification." "It is our intention to come to grips with this problem."

Bennett Dream At End Of Line

The Pacific Northern Railway Friday went the way of the international financier who promoted it — it died.

With its death went one of the Bennett government's fondest dreams — a 700-mile railway from Prince George to the Yukon.

The railway was the crown jewel of a northern B.C. industrial empire envisioned by the late Axel Wenner-Gren. First it was to be a revolutionary monorail capable of 100-mile-an-hour speeds, but later it was to be a conventional railway.

Its death knell was sounded in a provincial cabinet order that rescinded the railway's special borrowing powers, proposed right-of-way and authority to use crown land for same.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government should inform the U.S. and British Columbia the Columbia River treaty is not satisfactory and renegotiation should be undertaken based on recommendations of the International Joint Commission, H. W. Herdridge (NDP—Kootenay West) said Friday.

New Motel Destroyed By Flames

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—A $250,000 motor hotel was destroyed by fire Friday near Fort St. John. No one was injured.

Robert Wilmanere said the fire started early Friday afternoon and was believed to have been ignited by a short circuit in the wiring below the kitchen area.

About 500 persons gathered to watch firemen battle the blaze for three hours. The hotel, three miles west of Fort St. John and about 400 miles northwest of Edmonton, was constructed about four months ago.

B.C. Legal Official Angry

Kidnap Report 'Shocking'

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

B.C. deputy attorney-general Gilbert Kennedy was shocked and angered yesterday at word that Loomis robbery fugitive Douglas John Brown had been denied legal rights in Brazil.

"This is shocking," he told The Daily Colonist after reading an account of how Rio de Janeiro police kidnapped Brown and held him incommunicado in a Brazilian jail.

The report of his secret confinement quoted Rio Police Chief Gustavo Borgus as saying the only way Brown could get out of custody would be for him to get a friend or a lawyer to apply for a writ of habeas corpus.

"He can't do it himself and we won't let him phone a lawyer," the police chief had told newsmen.

"We have had no part of this," the deputy attorney-general said in Victoria.

"I wouldn't be a party to it. Everyone is entitled to habeas corpus."

He said his department had been fully expecting to go through due process of law in attempting to bring Brown back to B.C. He personally had been working on the case since earlier in the day.

"Never at any time during the day did we imagine that he would be deprived of the due process of law. We have had nothing to do with any kidnapping and do not condone his being held in detention incommunicado."

LOOMIS MAN SENT NORTH

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP-AP)—Canadian robbery suspect Douglas John Brown was bodily shoved up the steps into a Brazilian jetliner Friday night en route to the United States.

Two plainclothes detectives drove Brown to the airport in a tire-screaming taxi and immediately hustled him through a throng of Brazilian reporters and into the Varig airliner which was scheduled to arrive in New York at 7:30 a.m. today.

Brown is sought by Vancouver police in an investigation of the theft of $25,000 from the Loomis Armored Car Service in the British Columbia city.

SAID NOTHING:

Reporters asked Brown such questions as "Going voluntarily?" "Got money?" and "Where's the money?" But Brown, appearing bewildered, said nothing as he was hustled up the steps into the plane.

MOVED INTO PLANE:

The police gave Brown a final shove, sending him into the plane, then turned around and made sure no reporters boarded the plane. Moments later the plane taxied off. All the passengers in the jetliner were in their seats before Brown's arrival.

Fugitive Denied Rights

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sun quotes Rio Police Chief Gustavo Borgus as saying in a telephone interview: "Brown surrendered quietly. He has not been charged with any crime here. He is being held in strict secrecy at police headquarters."

Borgus explained that Brown was held in secrecy in an attempt to circumvent the law of habeas corpus until he can be placed aboard a plane for New York.

Borgus was quoted as saying the "kidnapping technique" was used in the arrest of Brown.

"It is the usual method used by Brazilian police to get what we call undesirable out of the country."

Wife Says Writ Ready

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Lavina Brown said Friday night Brazilian authorities must have ignored a writ of habeas corpus when they shipped her husband out of Rio de Janeiro to face robbery charges.

She said the writ was obtained by lawyers to prevent just such a deportation. His wife said a Vancouver law firm, which has been working with associates in Brazil, still may try to take action when the plane lands in New York.

Alabama Governor Faces Court On State Sovereignty Issue

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge has ordered defiant Alabama Governor Wallace into court next month for a legal showdown on the state sovereignty issue raised by the governor in his pledge to keep two Negroes out of a state university.

Asserting federal sovereignty, the U.S. justice department moved Friday for an injunction against Wallace's interfering with the enrolment of Negro students at the University of Alabama.

A governor "has no authority by interposition" or otherwise to obstruct or prevent the execution of the lawful orders of a court of the United States," the justice department said.

Under a court order, Vivian J. Malone, 20, of Mobile is to become the second Negro ever admitted to the main campus at Tuscaloosa and David M. McGlathery, 27, will attempt to enrol at the university centre in Huntsville, his hometown.

'Lavender Hill Mob' Scores

LONDON (UPI)—Fifty bandits clad in blue overalls, their faces covered by women's silk stockings, stole half a ton of gold bullion bars worth $500,000 Friday in what police said was Britain's biggest gold theft.

The thieves grabbed the gold in a spectacular lunchtime raid on a bullion broker's warehouse in the City of London business section.

The simplicity of the operation recalled a classic Alcatraz film, The Lavender Hill Mob.

Three of the members of the gang pounced on warehouse guard Percy Houghton immediately after a bullion truck delivered 80 gold bars from Rothchild's Bank.

They clubbed him and tied him to a chair. They then loaded 40 of the bars, each weighing 28 pounds, into a delivery truck and sped away in the wrong direction on a one-way street.

Unusual 'Suspects' In Lovers' Lane

OTTAWA (CP)—The other night, neighbors in east Ottawa's Sandy Hill district decided to put an end to nocturnal activities of car parked in Strathcona Park.

They called police and who do you think they caught? Alderman "Charlie" M. Germaine and me," blushing Mayor Charlotte Whitton told board of control Thursday.

She said they went to the park from another civic meeting to check the validity of complaints about the "lovers' lane."

"We weren't there five minutes and up pulled a police car with lights flashing," Miss Whitton related. To the obviously embarrassed policeman, Alderman M. Germaine blithely explained: "We're just getting evidence."

The policeman, according to Mayor Whitton, replied: "Oh, go right ahead."

Sugar

What Shortage? Asks the World

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

The price of sugar has quadrupled this year, and most of the rise has taken place in the past few weeks. The world market price has risen from about $60 a ton to about $270 a ton.

A 10-pound bag of sugar selling a few months ago at about 50 cents is now costing about $1.50. It may go higher yet.

The increase is also putting up the price of practically every foodstuff that has a sugar content. Nobody is happy about it. Questions are being asked in parliament—not only in Canada, but in countries all over the world.

The politicians want to know what is happening. Are the increases justified, or is it another gigantic market manoeuvre in which the sharp boys make their killing and the housewives have to pay for it?

The known facts of the sugar boom are that Cuba failed to deliver its normal crop in 1962, and this was accentuated by a widespread failure of the European sugar beet crop.

As a result the available sugar supply this year amounts to about 51,000,000 tons, against a normal annual consumption of 56,000,000 tons.

So far no one is actually short of sugar, but the fear exists that shortages may develop, and as a result of that fear the major users of sugar—such as the soft drink industry and the candy makers—have taken fright and have been laying in stocks of sugar for future delivery.

It was this demand for futures which started the sugar scare. Smaller commercial users of sugar got into the act as well, to assure themselves of a sugar supply before prices went further ahead. Most housewives, too, have laid in
